Sportsmen flock to Bloomingburg

BY GEORGE MALEK
BLOOMINGBURG — Some $3,000 will be pumped into the Bloomingburg area economy as a result of the annual Bloomingburg Lions Club's hunting safari. The two-day project opened Friday morning as nearly 80 hunters followed their guides into the Bloomingburg area "wilderness."

Sportsmen from as far as 100 miles away flocked to the small community to participate in the club-sponsored party. The cost per person is $30 a day.

THE PRICE includes a breakfast of coffee and doughnuts, a guide who escorts three to five hunters through the Bloomingburg countryside, an outstanding lunch, dinner, and care and feeding of the hunter's dogs.

The major expense for the club is the food which is purchased locally and served by the wives of the Lions Club members. Approximately two-thirds of the total income is profit which is then used for the philanthropic endeavors of the club.

Sight-saving programs receive most of the money earned. Glasses for needy children and adults, the purchase of seeing-eye dogs and donations to eye-research projects are the primary uses of the profits.

Solons prodded to approve nomination of Rockefeller

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford has taken command of a Republican drive to blame the Democratic Congress for delaying Nelson A. Rockefeller's nomination as vice president.

The President said he ranks his choice of Rockefeller as the foremost achievement of his first 100 days in office. He said he could foresee no circumstances which would cause him to withdraw the nomination.

Ford's call to Congress to vote the nomination up or down by year's end coincided with a painstaking examination by the Senate Rules Committee of the two controversies that have contributed most to delaying confirmation.

The principal figure in one of these, former Supreme Court Justice Arthur J. Goldberg, refused to accept Rockefeller's apology for his long-concealed role in the financing of a critical Goldberg biography during a Rockefeller campaign against Goldberg. The panel today hears nine more witnesses explain their role in the complicated affair.

At a news conference in Phoenix,

Ariz., Ford told the Society of Professional Journalists, Sigma Delta Chi, that he will ask Congress to insert deadlines into the 25th Amendment to the Constitution to prevent prolonged future struggles over the succession to the nation's No. 2 governmental post.

Earlier Thursday, the Senate's two top Republican leaders used their positions on the Rules Committee to complain at length that Democratic footdragging was subverting the 25th Amendment for partisan political gain.

Senate Republican leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania took more than 15 minutes at one point to read excerpts from the original debate over the presidential succession amendment in which dozens of congressmen said its chief advantage was the speed with which a cooperative Congress could fill a vacancy in the vice presidency.

Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., the GOP whip, repeatedly expressed impatience at the delay which he said will cause Ford to leave the country on a trip to Southeast Asia next week without a vice president "on hand and in office to mind the store."

"What bothers some members of the Democratic majority is not that Rockefeller is so unqualified," Griffin said. "They are bothered that he might be too good," he asserted.

Democratic committee members — including Chairman Howard W. Cannon, D-Nev., and assistant Senate Democratic leader Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia — quickly disagreed.

Byrd, one of Rockefeller's most persistent interrogators, said the financing of the Goldberg biography and the large gifts and loans to public officials raise such fundamental questions of legality and ethics that he intends to take his time to air them thoroughly.

Only Wednesday, Byrd had said he saw no evidence to cause him to vote against Rockefeller's nomination, either in committee or in the Senate as a whole.

After the hearings Thursday, however, he said he would vote to report the nomination to the Senate floor but replied, "I'm not sure," when asked if he would vote for the nominee in the Senate.

Gas tax hike nixed

Ford urges Americans not to cut spending

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — President Ford has assured Americans they need not postpone purchases to help fight inflation and that he will not seek wage and price controls or higher gasoline taxes.

Fielding wide-ranging questions at an on-the-road news conference, Ford also said:

—He wants Congress to promptly confirm Nelson A. Rockefeller as vice president and stressed there are "no conditions I can imagine" that would force him to withdraw Rockefeller's nomination.

—He plans to make his trip to the Far East as scheduled next week.

—Republicans "took a licking" in last week's congressional elections because of past scandals and a slumping economy but that is no reason to change the GOP role as "a middle-of-the-road party."

—While the United States can't force Israel to negotiate with the Palestine Liberation Organization, he said "our plans are aimed at trying to get Israel to negotiate additional settlements" with Egypt and other Arab parties.

Ford held the news conference at a convention of the Society of Professional Journalists, Sigma Delta Chi, after a speech to a convention of real estate agents in Las Vegas where he altered the emphasis of his anti-inflation advice to American consumers.

The President previously had urged consumers to "save more" as one way

Downtown operation to continue

New Murphy store to locate near shopping center here

Lease negotiations have been completed and financing has been arranged for a new G.C. Murphy Co. store in Washington C.H., according to an announcement by J.M. Ellis Jr., company vice president in charge of real estate.

Construction of the new Murphy's Mart store should be launched within a month, he said.

THE NEW Murphy's Mart store, a one-stop shopping complex, will encompass 45,500 square feet near the existing Washington Square Shopping Center on Columbus Avenue, approximately one mile east of the downtown Washington C.H. business district.

The store will be situated on a tract of land between the present Buckeye Mart store and the Storybrook Addition on Columbus Avenue. Land for the new store was leased by the G.C. Murphy Co. from a corporation headed by William Hadler, a Columbus real estate developer. The Murphy's Mart store project will be developed by Hadler.

Ellis said that, at the present time, the firm has no plans to discontinue the operation of the G.C. Murphy Co. store, located at 101 E. Court Street. The downtown G.C. Murphy Co. store is managed by Lee S. Kraus.

G.C. Murphy Co. officials said negotiations are also underway for a large food store to accompany the new Murphy's Mart store, but details were not disclosed.

W.F. Greenleaf, president of the G.C. Murphy Co., said the Murphy's Mart program is the key element of the firm's expansion program. Presently there are 31 Murphy's Mart stores in operation, five of which are situated in Ohio at Gallipolis, Youngstown, Boardman, Warren and Kent.

The new retail facility will be a one-floor, checkout-type operation with merchandise lines displayed in related groupings according to natural shopping habits. The 12 major merchandise classifications in a Murphy's Mart store are fashion apparel, men's and boys' furnishings, fashion accessories, home furnishings, domestics, housewares, toys and hobbies, music, television and photograph equipment, writings and wrappings, candies, sporting goods, a tobacco shop and auto accessories.

IN ADDITION, the Washington C.H. Murphy's Mart store will feature a four-bay auto service center, an indoor-outdoor seasonal shop and a modern restaurant.

The Fayette County Board of Health has issued a food service permit to the G.C. Murphy Co. for the restaurant facilities proposed in the store here.

The G.C. Murphy Co. is a Pennsylvania corporation with headquarters at McKeesport, Pa. Company sales for 1973 were $470.2 million, an increase of $41 million over 1972 sales.

Other tenants in the Washington Square Shopping Center are Buckeye Mart, Revco Drug, Sunshine Cleaners, Scott's Variety Store, the First National Bank branch office, the Anderson Paint store, Frosty's Sweet Shoppe, Monique Fabrics, the Washington Square Barber Shop and the office of Dr. John E. Tyler, a chiropractor. A building, formerly occupied by a P&Q shoe store, is presently vacant. Parking facilities in the Washington Square Shopping Center presently accommodate approximately 1,000 cars.

76 per cent reached

Community Chest campaign ended

The 1975 Community Chest drive officially ended Friday, according to Otis R. Hess Jr., president of the Chest's board of directors. The drive ended short of the established $28,000 goal.

Hess stated that follow-up calls will be made attempting to reach those with late contributions. The goal of $28,000 will be sought during the remainder of the year to assure the 1975 allocations to 10 participating agencies can be met in January as previously planned.

Pam Landrum, secretary-treasurer for this year's Community Chest campaign, announced that to date $21,473.45 has been collected or pledged toward the 1975 goal. The $21,000 figure represents 76 per cent of the $28,000 goal. Miss Landrum stated that the Community Chest contributions have risen only one per cent over last week's total.

AREA RESIDENTS are urged to assist in the worthy cause which benefits the Boy Scouts, the Camp Fire Girls, the Community Activity Fund, the Community Education Fund, the Girl Scouts, the Mental Health Association, Eyman Park, the Red Cross, the Salvation Army and the Senior Citizens Center.

Any person wishing to contribute to the campaign can send a check to Box 598, in care of the Community Chest, or stop in at the Washington C.H. Area Chamber of Commerce office, 147 S. Fayette St.

To date, 33 individuals, businesses, industries or employe groups have contributed $100 or more the Community Chest and are recognized as 1975 Red Feather Club members.

The 33 Red Feather Club members are Mac Tools, Inc., Coffman Stair Co., John Breiner, the Midland Grocery Co., Carroll Halliday, Inc., Neil Helfrich, Howard Wright, the Basic Construction Materials Co., Tom Mark, Dr. Marvin H. Roszmann, Dr. Joseph M. Herbert, the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home, Henry and Mary Brownell, Dr. Ralph Gebhart, Otis Hess, the Sears and Roebuck Co., Yeoman Radio and TV, the Dr. Heinz Co., the First National Bank, Pennington Bread, Inc., Armo

Pallbearers for burial in Washington Cemetery were Stanley Beatty, Timothy Brown, Joel Bailey, Maynard Neslon, Joe Gray and Gary Scott. Burial was made under the direction of the Gerstner-Kinzer Funeral Home.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford definitely will run in 1976 for a full term in the White House, his chief spokesman said Friday.

Elevating the status of Ford's candidacy from probable to definite, White House Press Secretary Ron Nessen said Ford's decision was based on the fact "he enjoys being President."

Nixon home

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — Former President Richard M. Nixon, pale and thin, settled down at his oceanside villa today for a quiet recuperation from phlebitis surgery.

Nixon left Long Beach Hospital Medical Center in a wheel chair Thursday and returned to his San Clemente home. Meanwhile the head of a medical team assigned to determine whether Nixon is well enough to testify in the Watergate cover-up trial said he wanted the court to assist him with legal matters before he attempts the examination.

Dr. Charles A. Hufnagel, one of the three court-appointed physicians, said in Washington that the determination might not actually involve a physical examination of Nixon, but he said it likely would.

Urge postponement of Ford's journey

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—U.S. Rep. Chalmers Wylie, R-Ohio, says he is writing a letter to President Ford suggesting he postpone his planned trip to Japan next week "until such time as we have a vice president confirmed."

"There is some added danger to the President of the United States when he leaves American soil and I do not think he ought to be placing the nation in a situation where House Speaker Carl Albert might indeed become President, Wylie said Thursday.

SNOW IS FOR THE BIRDS! — Evidently not, for these cold pigeons are gathering together on this rooftop for warmth and a general discussion about the wintry turn the weather has taken. Speaking of birds, Thanksgiving Day isn't far off and neither is Christmas; so, it's probably time for that fluffy white stuff. (By the way, the weatherman says more whiteness to come . . .)

U.S. turns down doubled food aid

ROME (AP) — Citing inflation and other domestic considerations, the White House has turned down a request for an immediate increase of one million tons in world food aid, a U.S. official said today.

The decision seemed sure to spark criticism from many participants in the World Food Conference who already feel the meeting has done nothing concrete toward countering starvation.

The announcement was made by Anne L. Armstrong, counselor to President Ford and third-ranking member of the U.S. delegation to the conference.

She said the one million-ton grant would have a commercial value of about $175 million, and would have boosted total U.S. food aid this year to 4.3 million tons.

Mrs. Armstrong said the White House decision was based on domestic considerations and what such an increase in aid would have on inflation and prices in America.

She said the request came at a time when the "American housewife is having a tough time meeting her own budget. American citizens are having a tough time feeding their own families."

The request that U.S. food aid be nearly doubled in value was sent to Ford by Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz at the urging of Democratic congressional leaders in Rome for the conference.

Butz had said the U.S. government felt from the start that the conference was not meant "to spend a great deal of time discussing the immediate food aid problem."

Mrs. Armstrong said the White House "stands by the original decision which had been gone over and over and over before the conference."

She called the request unjust and said in food aid the United States was "second to none."

The Ford administration said repeatedly it was time for the newly rich oil exporting nations to help pay the food bill for their needy neighbors in Asia and Africa. No such pledges have been made.

Mrs. Armstrong said pressure for the request was based on a "certain amount of partisan politics."

In pressing the U.S. delegation to ask for doubling of humanitarian aid, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., an observer to the conference, had called the request modest.

Sen., George McGovern, D-S.D., another observer, had said the doubling of food aid was "imperative to give this conference the lift it needs."

"This conference is bringing international awareness to the food problem," said Agriculture Minister A. T. Silva of Sri Lanka, formerly Ceylon, an Asian island that is among the countries most seriously affected by grain shortages.

"But I don't think there will be enough time to take concrete actions for the emergency," he added.

The conference ends Saturday.

Mrs. Armstrong said the request for an immediate one million-ton increase in world food aid amounted to the Ford administration being "boxed in."

She said "we are not noncompassionate" to the food needs of others, but said the aim of the conference was to implement long-range food policies rather than winding up as a pledging forum.

Israel not allowed to reply to Arab charges in U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — In another demonstration of Arab power at the United Nations, the General Assembly has blocked Israeli plans to counterattack the Palestine Liberation Organization with a major speech a day during the Palestine debate.

The assembly voted 75 to 23 with 18 abstentions Thursday to limit each country to one major speech during the Palestine debate, which runs for another week. This does not affect a country's "right of reply" to charges made against it, but this is customarily confined to 10 minutes at the end of the day's session.

It was the third consecutive day that the African, Asian and Communist members united behind the assembly's Arab president, Foreign Minister Abdelaziz Bouteflika, to demonstrate their control of the body once dominated by the United States and its allies.

On Tuesday, the assembly decisively upheld Bouteflika's ruling that white-ruled South Africa could no longer participate in the assembly.

On Wednesday, Bouteflika ordered Palestine guerrilla chief Yasar Arafat treated as a prime minister or chief of state, with a chair on the rostrum and the U.N. chief of protocol to escort him to and from it.

Arafat led off the Palestine debate with a call for creation of a state of Palestine in which Israel would be submerged. Israeli Ambassador Yosef Tekoah replied a few hours later with a major speech declaring Israel would never tolerate PLO authority in any part of Palestine.

Tekoah listed himself to speak daily during the debate, but Bouteflika announced Thursday that he was limiting each country to save time. U.S. Ambassador John A. Scali argued for "unlimited debate," and Tekoah accused the president of displaying bias against Israel since the beginning of the session.

All the Arab delegations, most other African and Asian members and the Communists supported Bouteflika in the vote.

Stock list goes lower

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market drifted gradually but steadily lower in quiet trading today.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down 8.37 at 650.03, and losers held a 3-to-2 lead over gainers on the New York Stock Exchange.

Brokers said the market was suffering from a dearth of buying interest in the face of a troubled economic outlook.

International Telephone & Telegraph, the Big Board volume leader, was unchanged at 16 3/4.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market-value index rose .32 to 68.46.

The NYSE's composite index of all its listed common stocks slipped .43 to 38.27.

Imperial Oil A was the most active Amex issue, rising 7/8 to 25 1/4. A 49,900-share block traded at 25.

Jet fuel produced from coal possible

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Can jets fly on fuel made from shale oil and coal?

That's a question the National Aeronautics and Space Administration is teaming up with the Air Force to answer. They have begun a nine-year, $8 million study of the question as part of an effort to reduce the air transport industry's reliance on the nation's dwindling supplies of petroleum.

"We need to know the differences between shale oil and coal-based fuels and the kerosene-based fuel we use now," said Richard Rudey, chief of the Pollution and Combustion branch of NASA's Lewis Research Center here.

"And we need to know whether the alternate fuels will hurt jet engines," he added.

NASA is carrying on tests of the alternate fuels' effects on jet engine combustion chambers. The Air Force, with the help of the Exxon Corp., is studying the fuels' compatibility with jet fuel systems at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base in Dayton.

Aircraft account for 8 per cent of the nation's petroleum consumption, NASA says, with demand increasing as the industry grows.

Shale oil and coal are the principal alternatives to petroleum as a fuel source, and conservative estimates say the U.S. has four times as much oil in shale as in petroleum, according to NASA.

Techniques to economically extract oil from shale have not been developed and demonstrated full scale yet, so testing at Lewis is conducted with blends that duplicate expected characteristics of the new fuels.

Crude oil made from coal may be high in aromatics, compounds which increase engine exhaust pollution, he said. Experiments adding hydrogen in the production process will attempt to reduce the aromatic content, he said.

Nonsynthetic fuels being tested at Lewis are burned in a JTD8 jet engine which conforms to 1979 Environmental Protection Agency antipollution standards, Rudey said.

The limit of extraction technology is one reason little research has been done on applications of shale oil and coal-based fuels to aircraft. Rudey said that for the duration of the tests, NASA and the Air Force will need about 500,000 gallons of the alternate fuels. Once the results of the combustion tests are known and alternate fuels can be produced in large quantity.

Big Skylab payoff

An insistent question always arises when one seeks to assess various space ventures. It is, in simplest terms, the question whether the enormous cost is justified by the benefits derived from this or that undertaking.

A report from scientists at the space facility in Huntsville, Ala.,

indicates that the Skylab project may ultimately not only pay for itself but return a handsome dividend. Photographs and other solar data gathered by Skylab crews greatly increased knowledge of the sun's internal mechanisms. It is said that this may speed up by several years the effort to harness thermonuclear fusion as a power source. It would be hard to exaggerate the importance of this: the fusion process would provide all but limitless energy for many generations to come. If Skylab has brought this significantly closer, as we are told, whatever was paid for the project was a sound investment.

THESE DAYS . . . . By John Chamberlain

In the midst of the second cold war

I spent election day reading Richard Whalen's perceptive "Taking Sides: A Personal View of America from Kennedy to Nixon to Kennedy," and found myself not liking my thoughts.

Dick Whalen was, briefly, a favored Nixon speechwriter, but at the Republican convention of 1968 he quarrelled with John Ehrlichman over the question of a speechwriter's access to the candidate whose ideas he was supposedly helping to shape. When Ehrlichman contemptuously dismissed him as a "writer-researcher type," Whalen correctly deduced that a Nixon Administration would be run by "monopolizing men" with no idea beyond insuring their own exclusive control of the Imperial Presence.

Whalen didn't want to work for courtiers, so he quit the fold. How right he was about the Haldeman-

Ehrlichman camorra, which ultimately undid Richard Nixon, did not become plain until Watergate.

Dick Whalen has a most uncomfortable habit of being right. He was right when he distinguished between the phony aspects of John F. Kennedy's Camelot and the better side of Kennedy, who was patriotic to the core. He was right when he counselled Nixon to stop the drain of the Vietnam War, which could have been accomplished long before 1972 by a more daring diplomacy combined with the military force against Hanoi's rear that Nixon finally decided to use.

And he was right when he predicted that no good would come out of Nixon's theory of "politics as conspiracy," which may do well enough in campaign years but does not know how to utilize power constructively once it has been achieved.

What bothers me specifically about Whalen's new book is his feeling that we are now in the middle of what he calls "the Second Cold War" without even knowing we are there. During the long agony of Watergate, Nixon had to hang on to detente as if it were an assured success. He gave up more than he should have in SALT I.

But the blame for our national sleepwalking should not all be heaped on Nixon's shoulders. When Robert McNamara was Secretary of Defense, he believed, quite without evidence, that Soviet strategic policy would change if only the U.S. would cut its spending on innovative arms. The notion was that if we were to take nuclear stalemate as our goal, the Soviets would welcome the surcease and seek to match it.

It hasn't happened that way. No doubt that present Soviet nuclear edge would not in itself assure a Communist victory in all-out atomic war. As the saying goes, both sides have enough to kill each other several times over. But Soviet nuclear superiority means that the growing Communist naval power can be utilized, both as a threat and a "presence," to win bloodless victories all around the world. Soviet submarines menace the U.S. even in the Caribbean.

Dick Whalen has read the British political geographer Halford Mackinder with great profit.

"Geographically," says Whalen, "the non-Communist centers of order in the world, with the exception of Western Europe, are insular."

And Western Europe itself, even as southern Asia from Saudi Arabia to Indochina, consists of a number of peninsulas. With a nuclear standoff assured, the battle for the trade lines and eventually the governments of island and peninsula countries will go as naval supremacy goes.

So the Second Cold War has its maritime coloration. Whalen quotes ominously from Adm. Elmo Zumwalt's speech about 1973 being "the year in which the proud United States Navy falls behind in what has always been its number one position."

Whalen doesn't see much help in our present political parties. The Democrats have been taken over by "upper-middle-class, left-liberal Democrats" who remember John F. Kennedy's chic, but not his commitment to real excellence. The Republicans are demoralized. But there is hope: "The American people," he says, "have not failed as citizens — they have been failed."

Whalen hopes for better Republican leadership, but what depressed me most about his book was his inability to tell us where the leaders are hiding. I felt like saying, "Name one."

Demo leadership fight predicted

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— Now that Democrats have realized their long dream of taking over the Ohio Senate, the campaign is on for the $25,000-a-year political plum of majority leader.

The present leader of the Democratic minority, Anthony O. Calabrese, D-22 Cleveland, thinks the job rightfully should be his.

As dean of Senate Democrats, it is up to Calabrese to call a party caucus for the purpose of electing a majority leader. He appears to be in no hurry. He may not have the votes nailed down.

One announced challenger is veteran Sen. Oliver Ocasek, D-27 Akron. Ocasek thinks election of five new Democratic senators can tilt the race his way. The five includes two House members elected to the Senate Nov. 5 — Donald J. Pease of Oberlin and John T. McCormack of Euclid.

Ocasek said, "I think my chances have improved with these new people coming in."

Ocasek lost his bid for the leadership job to Calabrese in 1971.

One holdover senator who did not want to get involved publicly said both contenders claim they have six to seven votes. "Some they claim are the same people," he said.

It will take 11 votes to win the job. The senator said, "I have talked to seven and every one of them told me he is neutral right now. Whoever it is, it will have to be someone who can stand up to Jim Rhodes."

He referred to the apparent Republican Gov.-elect James A. Rhodes.

Democrats will control the next Senate, 21-12.

Rep. C. William O'Neill, R-28 Columbus, son of Ohio's chief justice re-elected to a second House term, tried to make the most of a sad election night for his party, which lost just about everything in the legislature.

"I guess we will be able to hold a caucus in the telephone booth," he said.

One nice thing about being a state senator with a four-year term is that it gives aspiring politicians a chance to run for higher office in mid-term without taking a chance of winding up unemployed.

Sen. Ronald M. Mottl, D-24 Parma, took a chance and wound up with a seat in Congress.

Sen. Tony P. Hall, D-6 Dayton, ran for secretary of state and lost, but retained his $17,500-a-year Senate job and political base.

Senate Democrats will name a successor to Mottl on the recommendation of his county committee.

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Hubby should quit keeping score

DEAR ABBY: I am 44 and Louie (my husband) is 49. I work in a laundry ten hours a day, and when night time comes I need a rest. Louie still acts like a teen-ager when it comes to sex. He can't get enough.

On weekends if we go for a drive in the country, Louie starts looking for an abandoned farmhouse or a secluded road. When we go for a walk in the woods, Louie looks for some bushes for us to crawl under. (We were nearly caught several times.)

I got so tired of being hounded for sex, I made Louie ask our family doctor how much sex was normal for people our age. The doc said three times a week was normal, so now Louie keeps a record. If it's less than three times a week, he says I owe him, and he adds it on to the next week.

I am falling behind, and dread the thought of going on a vacation trip with this man. Any suggestions?

TIED

DEAR TIED: The time for sex is when BOTH partners are agreeable. Louie shouldn't feel that he's entitled to a certain number of encounters, and you shouldn't be made to feel that you "owe" it to him. Tell him to quit keeping score—you'll tell him when you're ready.

DEAR ABBY: Please tell me what to do with a 10-year-old boy who is such a coward he lets every kid in the neighborhood (some younger and smaller than he is) pick on him and boss him around.

He won't stand up for his rights. In fact, he will run away from a fight rather than try to defend himself.

My husband and I have scolded him and even punished him, but it hasn't done any good. How can we get him to change?

He's not stupid. He loves sports, except boxing and wrestling. Or are some kids born to run from a fight?

ASHAMED

DEAR ASHAMED: What's so great about exchanging punches? There is a lot to be said for avoiding physical combat, so don't scold or punish your son if he chooses to go the nonviolent route.

DEAR ABBY: This is for "DOOMED," who wanted a big wedding but didn't know if his parents should help her parents foot the bill because of tradition.

I am getting married next month, and when my fiance and I became engaged, his parents offered to split the bills straight down the middle. They figured that their son is also getting married, and they should help pay for the wedding.

This has helped my parents immensely, and now we can have the big wedding we've both always dreamed of.

HAPPY IN CLEVELAND

DEAR HAPPY: I'm happy too. Happy that someone has had the courage to break with tradition in the interest of fairness and common sense. Maybe you'll start a new tradition. I hope so.

DEAR ABBY: A widow wrote to tell you how her grown children removed all her husband's possessions immediately after he had died suddenly. They didn't consult her first, and she was crushed.

I can understand that. Going through the belongings of a loved one, keeping some to cherish, giving some to others who loved him too, can be a great comfort in the agonizing stages of one's grief.

I lost my teen-age son, Steve, in a motorcycle accident. He sang, played the guitar and had grown so tall and handsome. So many people loved him and still do.

I will treasure some of the items he used in his everyday life. They were part of my life, too. I'm glad no one did me the favor of getting rid of all his belongings.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Friday, Nov. 15, the 319th day of 1974. There are 46 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1777, the Articles of Confederation were approved by the American Continental Congress. The document was the law of the land until the Constitution went into effect.

In 1492, Christopher Columbus noted in his journal the use of tobacco among the Indians. It was the first recorded reference to tobacco.

In 1805, the Lewis and Clark expedition reached the mouth of the Columbia River after a long trek across the West.

In 1806, Pike's Peak in Colorado was discovered by explorer Zebulon Montgomery Pike.

In 1889, the Republic of Brazil was founded.

In 1935, Manuel Quezon was inaugurated as the first president of the Philippine Commonwealth.

In 1970, thousands of persons were killed in a typhoon and tidal wave in East Pakistan.

Ten years ago: The U.N. Security Council said it would meet in urgent session at the request of Israel and Syria to consider an outbreak of hostilities on the border between the two countries.

Five years ago: A quarter of a million protestors against the Vietnam War staged a peaceful demonstration in Washington, D.C.

First Baptist Church

Local First Baptist Church schedules dedication events

The First Baptist Church, located at the corner of East and North streets, will hold open house and dedication ceremonies for its new building Sunday.

Included in the services will be the laying of a cornerstone at 2:30 p.m. with the building contractor and church building committee in charge.

The dedication ceremony will begin at 3:30 p.m. in the church with various speakers and activities.

The invocation and scripture reading will be given by the Revs. Francis T. McCarty of Toledo, and Douglas Peters of Troy, both former pastors of the local church.

The presentation of the keys will be made by the contractor, Barth Wenrick of The Wenrick Construction Co., architect, William Berry of G.E. Associates, and co-chairmen of the building committee, James A. Kiger and Carl Krieger.

A litany of dedication will be given by the present minister of the church, the Rev. Ralph F. Worlford.

The Rev. George Calhoun of the Ohio Baptist Convention in Granville will give the dedication sermon with a public open house and reception to be held continuously from 2-5:30 p.m.

Construction of the new church began on Sept. 21, 1973 with finishing touches still being added in the building today. Services were started in the building for the first time in July of 1974 before the church pews were even installed, with the congregation being seated on chairs.

The new building was planned and approved after the church building committee and board of trustees consulted an architect about their former, 85-year-old structure, which had stood since being built after the First Baptist Church sanctuary was leveled by a tornado in 1885.

It was decided at that time to demolish the ancient structure and construct the modern sanctuary, which was designed by G.E. Associates in Flint, Mich., and constructed by the Wenrick Construction Co., of Medway.

Members of the church building committee besides the co-chairmen were Paul Brunner, Raymond Burckfield, Kenneth Chaney, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hurt, Chester Howell, Howard Kelley, Kenneth Kelley, Thomas Mossbarger, Norman Parks, James Polson, Robert Provost, Frank Reno, Norman Thomas and Rev. Wolford.

Two women delegates to Jerusalem meeting

Mrs. Elizabeth Satterfield and Mrs. Robert Zimmerman of the Jeffersonville United Methodist Church will be delegates at "The World United Methodist Evangelism Convocation" in Jerusalem, Nov. 16-23.

The two women will depart from Columbus International Airport Saturday and return Nov. 23.

The convocation will launch a worldwide "Mission to the World" by the Methodist Church. The concluding service of commitment will be held Nov. 22 at Shepherds Fields near Bethlehem.

Representatives from across the world will be participating in the convocation. Bishop F. Gerald Ensley of Ohio will be the general chairman of the meetings. Other leaders will include Bishop Carlos Gattinoni of Argentina; Dr. Samuel Kamaleson of India; and Dr. Alan Walker of Australia.

In deep appreciation of her many contributions to the religious life of the

Holiday workshop held at Fish and Game Lodge

An atmosphere of the Christmas holidays prevailed at the Fish and Game Lodge recently when five Fayette Garden Clubs met for a holiday workshop. Decorations, arts and crafts, and nearly 50 flower arrangements were made and displayed by Mrs. Mabel Shoup of Dayton.

The Lodge was the perfect setting for the workshop, and a fire in the log fireplace with sprinkles of snow out-of-doors added to the setting.

Mrs. Shoup used three long tables for her display of candles, arrangements, and items for around the home such as wreaths, rattan mats, and miniature oil lamps entwined with holly.

A carry-in dinner was enjoyed at the noon hour and Mrs. Roxie Thompson gave the invocation preceding the meal.

The five county clubs were represented by the Washington Garden Club: Mrs. Donald Meredith, contact chairman, Mrs. Jean T. Craig, Mrs. T.N. Willis, Mrs. Eulalia Wade, Mrs. Robert Wilson, Mrs. Bud Hooks. Mrs.

Herbert Dawes, Mrs. Orville Hurtt and Mrs. Eugene Cook.

From the Posy Club were Mrs. Esther Schlichter, Mrs. Dorothy Bihl, and Mrs. Medrith Hanawalt; Town and County Club was represented by Mrs. Mary Belle Biddle, Mrs. Lois Duff, Mrs. Roxie Thompson, Mrs. Mary Baumann and Mrs. Barbara Armintrout.

Fayette Garden Club members present were Mrs. Hazel Lough, Mrs. Connie Meriweather, Mrs. Maryon Mark, Mrs. Ruth Stell, Mrs. Alice Bush, Mrs. Marguerite Jenkins, Mrs. Kenneth Bush and the Misses Jeanette and Josephine Roush.

From the Twin Oaks Club were Mrs. Opal Bonecutter, Mrs. Wilbur Hoppes, Mrs. Esther Braun, Mrs. Reba Blizard and Mrs. Myrtle Thompson.

Attending from the Greenfield Garden Club was Mrs. Robert Hodge, and other guests were Mrs. Fern Carr, Mrs. Glenna Snyder, Mrs. Alice Cory, Mrs. Griffin Thompson, Mrs. Edna Belle Hoppes, Mrs. Pat Temple and Mrs. Wilma Hastings.

AAUW meets in Hughes home

Mrs. Gene Hughes and Mrs. Robert Lee were co-hostesses Wednesday evening when the Washington C.H. branch of the American Association of the University Women, met in the Hughes home. Guest speaker Mrs. Ralph Edwards, division chairman for the mental health department of the Ohio AAUW, told of a film made recently at Orient Institute on the private care of patients. She also spoke of the Scioto-Paint Valley Guidance Center, consisting of five counties. Board of Trustees of Fayette County include Mr. O.M. Riegel, Attorney Rollo Marchant and Dr. James Rose. Some of the counties have mobile clinics set up, she said, and funding is done by levies. The branches have been urged to look into securing school counselors. There are five facilities for juvenile delinquents, but Fayette County has none.

Mrs. Lee conducted the meeting and led a discussion concerning problem children, children abused by their parents and the emotionally disturbed.

Plans were made to give to a Memorial Fund in memory of the late

Mr. O.L. Harper, father of Mrs. Elizabeth Fullerton and Mrs. Edith Parsley.

A letter from Mrs. James Greene, adult president of the American Field Service chapter at Miami Trace High School, was read, asking for support of the AFS program.

Several members will attend the Columbus branch meeting of AAUW on Saturday to be held at the Athletic Club. Guest speaker will be Mrs. Maxine Thornson of the National AAUW, chairman of Fellowship program of Washington, D.C. Her subject will be "Never Underestimate the Power of a Woman."

Final plans were also made for the centennial cookbook, which the members will be selling early in 1975.

Mrs. Tootle hostess to DAR chapter

Mrs. Merton Tootle of New Holland entertained the Mount Sterling chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution at her home, when the program consisted of a round-table discussion concerning National Defense.

Mrs. Ned Abbott, Regent, led the discussion, and opened the meeting in ritualistic form, assisted by Mrs. Tootle chaplain, and Mrs. Russell Ebert and Mrs. Errol Black.

Mrs. Edwin Arbogast registrar, reported that three boxes of clothing had been sent to the Kate Duncan Smith DAR School in Tennessee, and that anyone having clothing for young girls, and would like to donate it toward the project, should call her or Mrs. Abbott.

Mrs. Arbogast presided at the coffee service and Mrs. Black at the tea service, during the social hour when refreshments were served. A patriotic theme in red, white and blue prevailed.

'Thanksgiving' is theme

Seventeen members of the Bloomingburg United Methodist Women met at the church with Mrs. Malcolm Bloomer, Mrs. Will Braun and Mrs. Willard Bitzer as hostesses.

Devotions were presented by Mrs. Bitzer who also presented the program, entitled "Thanksgiving Blessings." In the absence of Mrs. Eli Craig, Mrs. Bloomer conducted the meeting, when various reports were made, and it was announced that Mrs. Fred Oswald, a member of the group, is ill.

Refreshments were served.

Eggs quickly lose their mild flavor if they are left at room temperature for even a short time. As soon as they are brought from the food market they should be refrigerated.

MR. and MRS. RICK D. LEETH

Miss Flowers, Mr. Leeth exchange marriage vows

First Christian Church was the setting for the marriage of Miss Jill Lynne Flowers and Rick D. Leeth. The Rev. Ray Russell performed the double ring ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Flowers, 422 Fourth St., and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mervyn Brown of 3458 Culpepper Trace Rd.

Altar vases held yellow snapdragons and yellow carnations and candelabra had yellow satin ribbons. Satin ribbon bows with leather leaf marked the pews.

Mrs. Wayne Spangler presented a one-half hour of wedding music.

Miss Flowers wore a gown of white nylonorgana with V-neckline scattered with seed pearls on ruffles. The long fitted sleeves were edged in ruffles and full skirt was also edged in ruffles. The detachable chapel-length train also ended in a ruffle. She carried a cascade bouquet of white Fuji mums and sonia roses.

Maid of honor Miss Karen Melvin wore a melon chiffon gown with long sleeves trimmed with white lace. Miss

April Flowers the bride's sister, and Miss Michaline Trimmer were bridesmaids. They wore yellow and orange chiffon gowns with long sleeves and white lace.

Miss Melvin carried two yellow roses and the bridesmaids each carried a single yellow rose.

Rex Leeth served as best man for his brother. Bob Brown, Ronnie Brown and Mike Morris seated the wedding guests.

Mrs. Flowers and Mrs. Brown wore yellow rose corsages.

Hostesses for the reception held at the church were Mrs. Charles Ford, Mrs. Roger L. West, Miss Starr Howell, Miss Vickie Bryan. The bride's table had appointments of crystal. A three-tiered yellow and orange decorated wedding cake centered the table.

The bride is attending Laurel Oaks Vocational School and the groom, a 1974 graduate of Miami Trace High School, is serving in the U.S. Navy, and stationed at Great Lakes, Ill.

G.C. Murphy store honors employees

The local G.C. Murphy Company store played host to employees and their families Wednesday evening during its annual Open House Party. The party gave employees an opportunity to do some Christmas shopping.

The store was decorated in typical Christmas fashion. Refreshments were served and drawings for prizes took place. Winners were Miriam Pollard, Howard Gardener, Miss Brenda Lower and Miss Janet Deakyne.

DAYP Club entertained

Mrs. Arthur Pettit was hostess to the DAYP Club when 10 members and four guests assembled in her home. Guests were Mrs. Steven Merritt and Staci, Krista Pettit and Mrs. John Martindale. A buffet-style noon dinner was enjoyed.

The afternoon was spent sewing on various items. The next meeting will be the Christmas party and gift exchange Dec. 14 in the home of Mrs. Alex Wackman.

Those present were Mrs. Carl Wilt Sr., Mrs. Leonard Blessing, Mrs. Orris Mallow, Mrs. Ruth Smith, Mrs. Ella Speakman, Mrs. Howard Williams, Mrs. Charles Burke, Mrs. Clifton Roberts and Mrs. Imel Howard.

MW Committee plans meeting

Members of the Martha Washington Committee on Indian Affairs, Daughters of the American Revolution, are reminded to bring Christmas gifts for the children of Chillicothe Indian School to the meeting Nov. 25, to be held in the home of Miss Helen Slavens at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Jane Rankin will speak on Blue Jacket-War Chief of the Shawnees.

Holiday bazaar has many items

The annual holiday bazaar of the Buena Vista Ladies Aid took place in the Township Hall. Ladies of the group had made bread, pies, cakes, cookies, ceramic items, aprons, and beads for the sale. Canned vegetables, iris, lily and jonquil bulbs, and African Violets were also among items sold.

PERSONALS

Miss Megan Abbott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ned Abbott, 1828 Rt. 22NW, spent the weekend with her parents. Megan is a student at Ashland College, Ashland, Ohio.

Mrs. Merton Tootle of New Holland, along with a cousin, Mr. Wallace Bostwick of Chillicothe, have returned home from Fullerton, Calif., where they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bostwick and family.

The Union Jack was Canada's official flag from 1763 to 1965.

Evel Knievel toys popular

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The Evel Knievel touch is turning Christmas toys into gold.
"If I had 1,000 Evel Knievel toys in the store right now — at 5 p.m. — I'd be sold out by midnight," said the assistant manager of Cincinnati's largest toy store.

"He's bigger than GI Joe, Big Jim, Kung-Fu and the rest of them," said Stan Ostrowsky.
Even Johnny Bench, Cincinnati's baseball hero is striking out against Knievel in the toy sales sweepstakes.

Illegal aliens milking economy

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The commissioner of the Immigration and Naturalization Service says one million jobs could become available for citizens and legal residents within a few months if a law against hiring illegal aliens were passed.

Leonard F. Chapman Jr. made that

Students shattered by school closing

DOYLESTOWN, Ohio (AP)— The senior dance scheduled for tonight has been canceled. But that's the least of the worries for students at Chippewa High School.

"A lot of the students are dissatisfied because they're going to be in big trouble in finding a college," said Jeffrey Smith, the senior class president. "They're worried about getting out late because the first ones out the best jobs."

"Students are dissatisfied with the community," he said. "The community really let them down."

Chippewa High School, in northeast Wayne County, closes its doors for the year at 4 p.m. today. It's out of money. The 1,800 students in the township's three districts won't be in class again until 1975.

The closing procedure began after voters last week rejected a 5.9-mill operating levy that would have funded the system until the end of the year.

Principal Robert Herbst sent a memo to teachers telling them to collect textbooks, inspect lockers and turn in keys.

The high school's athletic director hurriedly began trying to reschedule the basketball games and wrestling matches. The senior dance, planned to finance a class trip to Washington, D.C., was canceled.

But many students said they were more concerned about what faces them when the school does reopen: six-day weeks through January, no spring break and classes until June 27.

"It's going to affect me pretty much," said senior Mike Schultz, who hopes for a wrestling scholarship to college. "This'll cut down my chances of getting money for college come September and interfere with spots."

Some students and parents said Thursday it would come as a shock to many in Doylestown when the school closed.

Student Mike Miller said many residents "just don't think it's going to close at all. If and when it does close Friday, a few more people might have a different idea."

"Since Watergate, people just have a natural doubt built in now," said Paul Stanley, a township resident who spearheaded a drive to raise $70,000 in an attempt to keep the schools open.

"They felt they were misled on the state income tax issue, and they feel they can't even trust the local school board members," Stanley said.

prediction Thursday while in town to visit the service's Cleveland District office.

He said the Rodino Bill, passed by the House and now pending in the Senate, would make it mandatory for an employer to determine that a person is in this country legally before offering employment. Fines for hiring illegal aliens would range up to $1,000 per alien.

Chapman said it is not unlawful now to hire aliens who are in the United States illegally.

He said legislation is needed "that will turn off the economic attraction and make it difficult for illegal aliens to find jobs."

During the last fiscal year the Immigration Service apprehended 800,000 persons for being in the country illegally and expects to increase that figure to one million this year, Chapman said at a news conference.

He said that besides adding to the unemployment problem, illegal aliens avoid millions of dollars in federal income taxes.

Most of the illegal aliens apprehended last year walked across U.S. borders without any kind of clearance or visa, Chapman said.

"They simply entered the country, found a job and started earning money—most of which they sent out of the country to their families back home," he continued. "For every one we caught, probably three or four escaped detection."

Chapman said the illegal alien population in the United States is "at least six or seven million, and possibly as high as 10 to 12 million."

The U.S. immigration laws permit only 400,000 permanent residents to enter the country each year, he said.

He said that a few years ago the illegal alien problem in the United States was confined mainly to agriculture in the Southwest but now it is spread all over the country.

He said about one-third of the illegal aliens in the country are employed in agriculture, one-third in industry and one-third in services and they are paid from $4.50 to $9 an hour.

Sato says Ford must pay visit

TOKYO (AP) — Elder statesman Eisaku Sato said today it's too late to think of postponing President Ford's visit to Japan.

"We can't question whether the timing is good or bad," said the former prime minister and co-winner of the Nobel Peace Prize this year.

"Ford's visit is already scheduled. In dealing with the supreme leader in international affairs, to change the schedule would be like trying to stop a locomotive already traveling down the tracks. It's not as simple as changing the time for some ordinary person like me."

Since Ford's visit was scheduled for Nov. 18-22, the political future of Prime Minister Kakuei Tanaka has been put in doubt by charges that he used his official position to increase his fortune.

Leftist opposition to the visit took a violent form Thursday for the first time with a firebomb attack on the American and Soviet embassies, but the anti-American demonstrations have been negligible compared with the violence that forced cancellation of President Eisenhower's visit in 1960.

"Tanaka still represents the Japanese people. Through him, the nation confers with Ford," Sato said in an interview.

He added that should the prime minister be forced out soon after the President leaves Japan next Friday, American leaders would be prepared for such a move and it would not hurt relations between the two governments.

"America is a reliable partner for us," Sato said. "Amiable relations will be maintained, I foresee."

Shooting defendants enter innocent pleas

HILLSBORO — Two Greenfield area men, indicted by the Highland County grand jury on three charges a piece in connection with a shooting incident at the residence of a Greenfield police officer, pleaded innocent to the charges during arraignment proceedings held Thursday afternoon in Highland County Common Pleas Court.

Vernon R. Jenkins, 23, of Greenfield, and Rex A. Erskine, 21, Rt. 2, Greenfield, entered not guilty pleas to charges of felonious assault, discharging a firearm from a motor vehicle and malicious vandalism Thursday. Jenkins reserved a plea on the charge of discharging a firearm from a motor vehicle.

Highland County Common Pleas Court Judge Darrell Hottle continued $5,000 bond on the two defendants in addition to a $2,500 supplemental bond.

Jenkins was represented by Jon Hapner, of Hillsboro, while Dennis P. Ulrich, a Washington C.H. attorney, is serving as defense counsel for Erskine.

The two defendants were arrested by Greenfield police officers and deputies from the Highland County Sheriff's Department following a shooting incident at the home of Greenfield Police Sgt. Gregory H. Hadley, Ohio 28, just west of Greenfield.

Deputy transports prisoner to pen

Fayette County Sheriff's Sgt. John L. Emrick transported a prisoner from the Fayette County jail to the Ohio Reformatory in Mansfield, at 9:20 a.m. Thursday, Sheriff Donald L. Thompson reported.

Sgt. Emrick took Kenneth E. Haley, 22, of 1135 Paint St., to the institution on a warrant to convey issued by the Fayette County Common Pleas Court.

Haley was sentenced from one to 10 years in the reformatory by Fayette County Common Pleas Court Judge Evelyn W. Coffman, after being found guilty of kidnapping.

Nude sleeper faces tests

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Sleeping nude outdoors in the rain and becoming belligerent when police investigate warrants a psychiatric examination, Hamilton County Municipal Court Judge Donald Schott ruled.

"That is ridiculous," said Rachel Bilbery, 37, convicted of disorderly conduct. "I have a master's degree and you want me to see a psychiatrist?"

She was arrested Aug. 17. Police said they found her at 5 a.m. sleeping nude in her backyard, but under a blanket. Police said Miss Bilbery objected when they questioned her. Ronald Thomas, 31, heard the commotion and joined her.

Police said the two were uncooperative and hostile. They charged him with resisting arrest following a scuffle.

Judge Schott also ordered a psychiatric test for Thomas.

Miller attempts to sell coal pact

WASHINGTON (AP) — United Mine Workers President Arnold Miller is trying to sell his union's 120,000 striking coal miners on the proposed new contract he spent nine weeks hammering out with the coal industry.

Miller began presenting the 175-page document to the UMW's 38-member bargaining council of executive board members and regional officers Thursday night. The council must approve the settlement before it can be presented to the union's rank-and-file, who since Tuesday have struck mines which produce 70 per cent of the nation's coal.

Miller and aides have been explaining the contract line by line to the council.

The UMW president has predicted that the package, which includes sizeable wage and benefit increases, would be ratified by the membership, possibly in time to end the nationwide walkout before Thanksgiving.

But there have been indications from the coal fields that some miners are less than enthusiastic over the package.

In southern West Virginia, where some union members have been traditionally skeptical of union leadership, miners have criticized the absence in the proposed contract of a right to strike over local issues.

'Dum dum' bullets defended by police

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Two Cincinnati policemen asserted Thursday that survival and protection must be the key considerations in the controversy over using hollownosed, "dum dum" bullets.

"Law enforcement officers have all these rules you have to live by, but criminals don't have to abide by these rules," said Spec. Charles Asimus of the robbery squad.

Asimus said ammunition now used is obsolete — "the stuff our grandfathers used 30 years ago. They have so much velocity they can go through a person and he can still shoot back."

So much controversy has been waged over the bullets, which are banned in international warfare, that the city has delayed the police proposal and called for a fact-finding study.

Opposition to the bullets comes from the fact that they flatten out on impact causing larger wounds and many more deaths and permanent injuries than normal bullets.

Police counter that this should not matter in criminal cases, that the rounds do not ricochet like others and that the dum-dums would not pass through the criminal and injure innocent bystanders.

Asimus said he shot a bank robber through the chest during a confrontation some years ago. "He went down but still got three shots."

Homemade dum-dum ammunition saved his life five years ago, said Ptl. Dan Patterson.

He was shot in the abdomen at close range by a rape suspect.

"He stood over me and shot me again in the arm and a third time in the leg. Because he was using standard ammunition, without the shocking power of hollowpoint, I was still able to draw my gun," said Patterson.

"I shot him in the chest with one of my altered bullets and the impact sent him flying across the room. It saved my life because otherwise he probably would have emptied his gun into me," Patterson said.

They say this right is important to avoid federal court orders that were issued against local walkouts under the old contract. Organizers of a petition drive supporting a right-to-strike clause claim they have more than 3,000 signatures.

For the contract to take effect, it

Minor mishaps investigated

Fayette County Sheriff's deputies and Washington C. H. police officers each reported an accident today in which no injuries were sustained and no citations were issued.

Cars driven by Jennifer L. Bailey, 19, of 615 Harrison St., and Gary M. Pettit, 20, of 217 East St., collided on S. Fayette Street, near the East Street intersection at 1:44 p.m. Thursday, police reported.

Damage to the Pettit auto was estimated by police as moderate and damage to the Bailey car was estimated as slight.

A semi driven by Julius N. Euganks, 63, of Gadsden, Ala., and owned by Ryder Truck Rental of Birmingham, Ala., pulled next to a truck parked at Garner's Union 76 Station, I-71 and U.S. 35, owned by Robert W. Houser of Brockton, N.Y., and damaged it extensively.

Fayette County Sheriff's deputies reported the damage was caused when Euganks' right rear semi wheels brushed the front fender of the Houser truck and also hit a Honda Trail 90 motorcycle fastened to the front of Houser's vehicle.

The mishap, which occurred at 4:25 a.m. Thursday, resulted in only slight damage to the semi.

Courts

JUVENILE COURT

Fifteen-year-old Fredrick Sprouse, his 13-year-old brother William, and Tommy Wilson, 14, all of Columbus, have been found delinquent by Juvenile Judge Rollo M. Marchant.

The trio had been arrested by city police for operating a motor vehicle without the consent of the owner. All were remanded to the Franklin County Juvenile Court for disposition.

DIVORCE ACTION DISMISSED

The divorce action filed in Common Pleas Court by Ruth Ann Smith, Washington Manor Court, against Timothy W. Smith Sr., has been dismissed at the request of the plaintiff.

CIVIL SUIT FILED

William H. Igo, Miami Trace Road, has filed suit in Common Pleas Court against the All American Life and Casualty Co., Chicago, Ill., and Phillip Rogers, Staunton-Jasper Rd., agent for the firm.

The plaintiff claims that the insurance company has refused to pay him hospitalization and disability coverage included in his policy. He is seeking $667 in compensatory damages and $10,000 in punitive damage.

CIVIL SUIT JUDGMENT

The suit filed in Common Pleas Court by Robert Pavey, Leesburg, against Gary Cockerill, Leesburg, Has been settled by a judgment ordering the plaintiff to pay $150 to the defendant.

The original petition claimed that the defendant had refused to return 20 hogs to the plaintiff, their owner. However, the defendant claimed that the hogs had wandered onto his property and destroyed some of his crops, and that he was holding the hogs until the plaintiff paid for the damages.

Judge Evelyn W. Coffman ordered that Cockerill return the hogs and that Pavey give to the defendant $150 for damages.

must be ratified by a majority of the UMW membership. It is the first time in at least half a century that miners have had the right to vote on a new contract proposal.

Most criticism of the tentative settlement has been directed at so-called noneconomic issues. The economic section of the proposal calls for 15 per cent salary increases over the three-year contract period, plus additional cost of living raises. Miners now make between $42 and $50 a day.

The proposal would also increase pensions, for miners who have already retired, from the current $150 a month to $250 a month at the end of the contract period, and would provide even bigger pensions for future retirees. The contract also would provide sick leave for the first time, a new sickness and health protection plan, longer vacations and more holidays.

The ratification process is expected to take 10 days. If the contract wins approval, that would limit the four-day old walkout to a total of two-weeks.

The strike has already triggered lay-off notices for more than 15,000 workers in the steel and railroad industries, however a two-week strike was not anticipated to have major consequences on the economy beyond these coal-related industries.

Government economists have said that a longer walkout could result in the laying off of thousands of other industrial workers and have a potentially devastating effect on the nation's already ailing economy.

IN THE COURT OF COMMON PLEAS, PROBATE DIVISION, FAYETTE COUNTY, OHIO

Bertha M. Leach, Surviving Spouse of Wilbur L. Leach, Dec'd, Plaintiff, vs. Bertha M. Leach, Administratrix of the Estate of Wilbur L. Leach, Dec'd, et al., Defendants.

No. 7410 PC 4987 LEGAL NOTICE

Charles Leach, whose residence and last known address are both unknown, will take notice that on the 4th day of October, 1974, Bertha M. Leach, surviving spouse of Wilbur L. Leach, deceased, filed a complaint in the Court of Common Pleas, Probate Division, of Fayette County, Ohio, at Washington C.H., Ohio, case No. 7410 PC 4987 against Bertha M. Leach, administratrix of the estate of Wilbur L. Leach, deceased, and others seeking to exercise her right under Section 2113.38, Ohio Revised Code, authorizing the surviving spouse to purchase the mansion house, including the parcel of land on which such house is situated and lots or farm land adjacent thereto and used in conjunction therewith as the home of the decedent at the appraised value as fixed by the appraisers.

Said real estate is described as follows, to-wit: Situate in the Township of Paint, County of Fayette and State of Ohio:

FIRST TRACT: Beginning at a stone in the line of Walter Yeoman, and corner to Nettie Wright, (now Nettie Brown); thence S. 86 degrees 15' W. 7.36 poles to a stone; thence N. 6 degrees 40' W. 8.40 poles to a stone; thence S. 87 degrees 20' E. 7.36 poles to a stone in the West line of the school lot 12 feet North of the southwest corner; thence S. 6 degrees 40' E. and parallel with said school lot to the beginning, containing 43 square rods more or less, and being a part of A. Buford's Survey No. 1093.

SECOND TRACT: Beginning at a stone at the center of the Carr Pike and southeast corner to Lot No. 7, being Lot No. 2 of a tract of land subdivided by J.H. Asher for Walter Yeoman; thence with the south line of said Lot No. 1 S. 87 1/2 degrees W. 167 feet including half of said pike; thence S. 11 1/2 degrees E. 67 feet to an alley 16 feet wide; thence N. 87 1/2 degrees E. 167 feet to the center of said Pike; thence N. 10 degrees W. 48 feet to the beginning, also including the one-half interest of said Lot No. 2 to be used for alley purposes and said lot containing .31 of an acre more or less.

THIRD TRACT: Beginning at a stone in the center of the Carr Mill Pike southeast corner to Martha Wright; thence with said Wright's line W. 174 feet to the center of the 16 foot wide alley; thence with the center of said alley S. 60 feet to G.W. Carl; thence with said Carl's line 174 feet to the center of the Carr Mill Pike; thence with the center of said Pike 40 feet to the beginning and containing 10.440 square feet, being Lot No. 1 of a tract of 3.08 acres of land subdivided into town lots including streets and surveyed and platted by John Asher for Walter Yeoman, April 16, 1895, and being part of A. Buford's Survey No. 1093.

FOURTH TRACT: Beginning at a stone in the line of Walter Yeoman Addition and said Martin Ford; thence S. 86 degrees 15' W. 9.19 poles to a stone; thence N. 11 degrees 10' W. 7.17 poles to a stone southwest corner of school lot No. 10 Paint Township, Fayette County, Ohio; thence N. 86 degrees 15' E. 9.19 poles to a stone in the line of said school lot reserving a 12 foot passway from said southwest corner of school lot to a stone in said line; thence S. 11 degrees 10' E. to the beginning, containing 66 square poles more or less.

Said defendant is required to answer within 28 days after the last publication of this notice.

Recession real to consumers

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Some of the most simply explained activities of our economy are buried today in a clutter of confusion, hidden by complex terminology and definitions that, summed up, often are irrelevant.

No term is more obscure than "recession."

Is there a recession? Yes, there is. Stripped of all the asterisks and academic limitations or exceptions or qualifications, there is a recession of economic activity.

The current quarter, in fact, is the fourth straight one in which the economy, rather than growing, has shrunk. The shrinkage amounted to 7 per cent in the first quarter, 1.6 in the second and 2.9 in the third.

But for a recession to be official mustn't it be proclaimed by the National Bureau of Economic Research, a private organization, or the President or the Council of Economic Advisers?

If any group is qualified to make this determination it is the consumer, who is today more powerful and influential than either business or government.

And the consumer, through surveys and studies, has declared a recession exists.

Prof. George Katona, the dean of consumer behaviorists, for years associated with the Survey Research Center at Ann Arbor, Mich., reduced the consumer definition of recession to this:

"Prosperous times, so people feel, are those in which they live better than a year or two earlier, while there is a recession if they live worse."

"According to this criterion, a recession set in toward the beginning of 1974."

For reasons sometimes as obscure as the definition of recession itself, many people aren't satisfied with that explanation, even though it coincides with the more scientifically precise definition so often given.

A recession occurs, many economists agree, when there exists two straight quarters of declining production. Some, however, aren't willing to concede the fact until it is so pronounced by the National Bureau, which might get around to a decision long after the recession has ended.

Some students of consumer behavior like to point out that sometimes the government is much slower than the general population to recognize the onset of recession. The government relies on statistics; the people rely more on instinct and subjective surveys.

To some degree, in fact, the government statistics are only a delayed reflection of what has already been decided by consumers; these figures record rather than forecast the event.

While the precise and complicated definitions have their uses, the psychological condition of consumers can never be ignored, because it is they who buy the cars and homes and food.

If the consumer feels there is a recession, therefore, the economist is likely to find verification in his figures, but several weeks or months later.

Caniff rites set Saturday

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — "She was very proud of my thing; she lived more or less for it," syndicated comic strip artist Milton Caniff said, discussing his mother.

Caniff returned home to arrange funeral services and burial for his 87-year-old mother, Elizabeth, who died Wednesday. The services will be held Saturday.

"This house was her haven," Caniff said of the suburban Oakwood home where he did much of his work on the Steve Canyon strip he draws for Field Enterprises, Inc., during regular summer and fall visits. Caniff lives in Palm Springs, Calif.

Mrs. Caniff married John W. Caniff in 1909 at Hillsboro, Ohio, where Milton was born. The family moved to Dayton in 1919.

Special services at Maple Grove

The Maple Grove United Methodist Church is conducting special services Sunday to conclude a week of revival activities.

The services will begin with Sunday School at 9:45 a.m., a basket dinner in the church annex at 12:30 p.m. and a song fest at 2 p.m.

The closing service will be held at 7:30 p.m. with the guest speaker, the Rev. Howard Mayne of Albany. The evening service has been designated Youth Night, with the church youth in charge of music.

The public is invited to attend the services, said the Rev. Earl J. Russell, pastor at the church.

Waverly speaker to head services

The Gregg Street Church of Christ in Christian Union will be holding revival services at 7:30 p.m. nightly Nov. 18-24.

According to the Rev. Robert Kline, pastor of the church, the guest speaker will be the Rev. Don Pfeiffer, an evangelist from Waverly.

Rev. Pfeiffer is a former district superintendent for the Churches of Christ in Christian Union and has spoken widely at revivals, conferences and camp meetings throughout the United States.

The public is invited to attend these services.

SCOL stars honored

By LARRY WATTS
Record-Herald Sports Editor

Thursday night's South Central Ohio League banquet at Washington Senior High School marked another banner year for Fayette County football. Not only did Miami Trace claim the co-championship trophy with Circleville, but the Panthers and Blue Lions combined to capture 14 of the 28 first team All-SCOL selections.

With Jay Mossbarger and Greg Cobb being selected both offensively and defensively, Miami Trace had seven players on the first team. Mossbarger, who was also the honorary captain of the offense, was named as a tight end and defensive end. Cobb, who is a junior, was selected to offensive tackle and linebacker.

Mossbarger and Cobb were the only returnees from last year's All-SCOL squad for the Panthers. Named for the first time were Tom Reisinger, center; Tom Riley, quarterback; Jeff Sagar, running back; Ron Warnock, defensive lineman; and Phil Skinner, defensive halfback.

Senior Jeff Brown was the only returnee from Washington Court House. Brown was chosen as the All-SCOL kicker both years.

Blue Lions being honored for the first time were Gilbert Sparkman, cornerback; Larry Dumford, linebacker; Brian Haines, defensive lineman; and Richard Haitcock, defensive lineman. Sparkman was also selected as the defensive team's honorary captain.

Co-champion Circleville held six first team selections on the all-star team. Tigers chosen to the squad were Scott Bowman, tackle; Tim McNaughton, guard; Rick Sampson, wide receiver; Biff Bumgarner, running back; Alan Underwood, cornerback; and Perry Hoskins, defensive halfback. Bowman and Underwood were being honored for the second consecutive year.

Four players from Greenfield captured first team berths. Defensive end Gary Barr was selected for the second consecutive year. Chosen for the first time were Don Watts, wide receiver; Chuck Conley, defensive lineman; and Jim Ganger, linebacker.

From Wilmington, Jackie Watson was selected for his third time. Last year, Watson was honored as a defensive halfback and this year he was chosen as a running back. Guard Noel Van Pelt was also chosen from the Hurricane.

Hillsboro and Unioto each had one member on the team. The Indians were represented by defensive lineman Mark Ford and the Shermans placed offensive tackle Jeff Allen on the team. Addressing the players and honored guests was Chuck Studley, who is the defensive line coach with the Cincinnati Bengals. Studley has been coaching at the high school, college and pro level for nearly 25 years.

"It is not the physical things which are important to being successful in any type of athletics," Studley told the athletes. "All types of athletics require intelligence because most of the mistakes made in athletic competition are those of an intellectual nature."

"From high school to the pros, an athlete always has to be in a proper state of mind," Studley continued. "There has to be that certain something beating in your heart and mind, saying that you have to get the job done within the rules of the game." Studley noted that football players require a special type of courage. They have to put their head and shoulders at the legs of a runner and like it.

"Do not stop here and never give up," Studley stated. "For you athletes, this is the beginning, the end and the in between of interscholastic sports."

Also honored during the evening was the All-SCOL golf team. The Ohio High School Athletic Association moved golf from a spring sport to a fall sport effective this season.

Instead of one league match determining the winner of the golf title, the teams based their standings on dual matches. Circleville won the SCOL crown with a 11-1 record.

Jeff Spires, Mark McFadden and Jeff Bohenko were selected to the team from Circleville. Unioto placed Jamie Kysor and Mike Holtz on the squad. Also making the team were Mike Sharkey of Hillsboro, Fred Hamilton of

Bengals, Oilers in rematch

About three weeks ago, the Houston Oilers, sagging under the weight of a five-game losing streak, left home and staggered into Cincinnati. And just about everyone figured the string would run to six.

A few hours later it was the Bengals who were staggering. The Oilers pranced out of Riverfront Stadium with a 34-21 victory.

An upset, everyone said. A fluke. So the Oilers followed that up by knocking off the New York Jets 27-22 and the Buffalo Bills 21-9. Now the streak is a positive one—three victories in a row, for the first time since 1971. It was the best road trip in the team's history. Those three victories were more than Houston had won the entire past two seasons combined.

And on Sunday, they face the Bengals again, this time in the suddenly friendly Astrodome. The team is predicting the largest crowd of the season, perhaps a sellout.

Sunday's other National Football League games, it's Pittsburgh at Cleveland, Los Angeles at New Orleans, San Diego at Oakland, Buffalo at Miami, St. Louis at Philadelphia, Dallas at Washington, Green Bay at Minnesota, the New York Giants at Detroit, the Jets at New England, San Francisco at Chicago and Baltimore at Atlanta. On Monday night, Denver hosts Kansas City.

Sid Gillman, the coach of the rejuvenated Oilers, doesn't buy that "upset" business anymore. "We feel we can play with anybody," he said. "We are making fewer and fewer mistakes and we said before the Buffalo game if we won, we wouldn't consider it an upset."

And Cincinnati Coach Paul Brown can't argue with that thinking. "We know we're going to be in an all-out battle. It should be obvious by now that they have a fine football team. They are very physical on defense and are led by a fine young quarterback in Dan Pastorini."

The Bengals have a pretty good one, too, in Ken Anderson, the NFL's No. 1 passer. He has completed 37 of his last 43 passes, including an NFL record 16 in a row. He picked Pittsburgh to pieces in last week's 17-10 victory that trimmed the Steelers' lead in the American Conference Central Division to one-half game over the Bengals.

What Anderson has done for Cincinnati, Pastorini has done for the Oilers. Given time to pass by his improved offensive line, Pastorini has thrown five touchdown strikes in the last four games and has moved up to fourth among American Conference passers.

Pittsburgh Coach Chuck Noll isn't saying who his starting quarterback will be against the Browns. Terry Bradshaw, who lost his job to Joe Gilliam in the exhibition season, has been back as the starter the past few games. And Terry Hanratty is still lurking on the sidelines.

"It's a decision that only I can make and that everybody else in the world gets to second-guess," Noll said. "It's a tough decision who to start, who to go with. We've got good people."

The Steelers haven't won in Cleveland since 1964.

The Rams need only a tie against New Orleans—whom they shut out 24-0 in the second game of the season—to clinch the National Conference West title. And Lawrence McCutcheon needs 141 yards to become the league's first 1,000-yard rusher this year.

The Raiders can also lock up a Western title—this one in the AFC—if they beat San Diego and Denver loses to Kansas City Monday night. Oakland has an eight-game winning streak going.

The Dolphins are still hurting at running back with Larry Csonka and Mercury Morris only questionable for their AFC East showdown with the Bills. Buffalo's O.J. Simpson, who left last week's game with a sprained ankle, is expected to start.

The Eagles, hosting St. Louis, were given a strong shot at challenging for the NFC East title but are struggling now, having lost four in a row. Their other loss was by a 7-3 score to the Cardinals in the teams' season opener.

The Redskins and Cowboys, who have spent the last three seasons slugging it out for first place in the division, are both trying to catch St. Louis this time around. Washington, one game off the pace and one up on Dallas, will again leave until game time the decision of whether Sonny Jurgensen or Billy Kilmer starts at quarterback.

Like the Raiders, Minnesota can win its division—the NFC Central—with some help. The Vikings have to shut down John Hadl and beat Green Bay and need a loss by Detroit, which has beaten the Giants in the teams' last four meetings.

The Patriots, one game back of Miami and Buffalo after leading the division for most of the year, are hoping to duplicate their Oct. 13 24-0 shutout over the Jets, who came alive against the Giants behind Joe Namath's brilliant passing last week.

Tackle slot opens for Washington's Cox

With an uncanny amount of injuries at the offensive tackle position of Ohio State, Washington Court House freshman Garth Cox may be seeing a lot of action on the Buckeyes' varsity squad this Saturday at Iowa.

In their 16-13 loss to Michigan State, the Buckeyes played without the services of Lorain senior Kurt Schumacher. Schumacher had his knee-cap banged out of place during last week's drills and he reported to Wednesday's practice for the first time since the injury. However, he has not really tested the knee in contact and it is uncertain whether he will be making the trip to Iowa City.

Junior Lou Pietrini filled in for Schumacher during the game with the Spartans. However, Pietrini has been sidelined with the flu this week and he may also miss the Iowa trip.

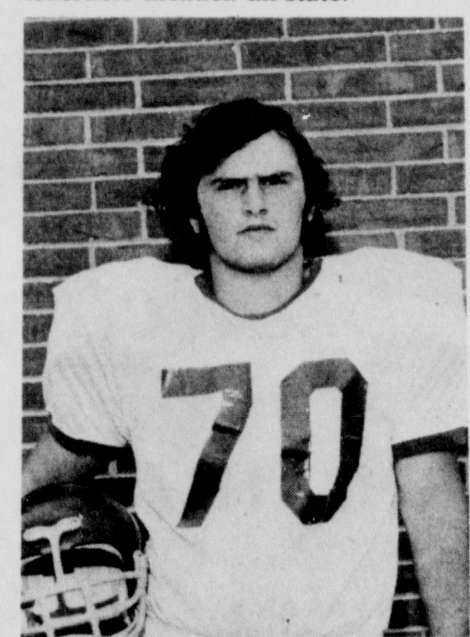

Chris Ward, a 6-foot 4, 270-pound freshman from Dayton has also been knocked out of action with a knee injury. Buckeye coaches are hoping he will be ready by the Michigan game.

With the injuries, sophomore Rick Applegate, who is 6-foot-3 and weighs 250 pounds, and Cox, who is 6-foot-5 and weighs 245 pounds, will be counted on to fill the gaps. Both players are lacking in experience.

Applegate started the season as a defensive tackle. He was then switched to offensive guard and now to offensive tackle.

Cox, who helped lead the Blue Lions to the Ohio Class AA state crown last year, has been seeing most of his action against the varsity defense this fall. Cox was a member of the South stars win the North-South Ohio All-Star game and a member of the Ohio stars in the Ohio-Pennsylvania All-Star game this past summer. During his senior campaign, Cox was selected as honorary captain of the All-SCOL offensive team, first team-all-district and honorable mention all-state.

Rough afternoon awaits Iowa

"We'll be playing a very disturbed and dangerous football team here Saturday."

That probable understatement was uttered this week by Iowa Coach Bob Commings as he prepared his respectable Hawkeyes for an invasion by erstwhile top-ranked Ohio State in the Big Ten's semifinal round of play.

Ohio State's invincibility was shredded by Michigan State 16-13 Saturday in a historic upset and now the pressure is on the Buckeyes girding for their big showdown with first-place Michigan next Saturday.

Nationally third-ranked Michigan, meanwhile, has a tough test against invading Purdue in a regionally televised game with the unbeaten

Wolverines trying to clinch a share of a fourth straight Big Ten title.

The rest of Saturday's conference card mainly stresses character building, although thirdplace Michigan State 4-1-1 still nurses feeble hopes of somehow elbowing into the title picture.

The Spartans, invading Indiana 1-5, must hope for Ohio State 5-1 to lose at Iowa and Michigan 6-0 to fall before both Purdue and Ohio State for any title chance and Rose Bowl bid.

Wisconsin 3-3 visits revived Northwestern 2-4 and Illinois 2-3-1 invades Minnesota 2-4 in the day's two other league battles.

If Ohio State's Buckeyes are half as riled as Coach Woody Hayes following the bizarre and costly setback at

Michigan State, Iowa is in for a painful afternoon.

"Ohio State's great rivalry with Michigan is irrelevant at this time," aptly appraised Hawkeye Coach Commings.

"The Buckeyes have to do a job on us this week for the Michigan game to mean anything.

"We've got to be prepared to meet a very angry football team. Offensively we'll try to mix things up and confuse them. Defensively, they create a great challenge because they have so many gifted backs."

Although Iowa stands 2-4 in the conference and 3-6 overall, the Hawkeyes fashioned a pretty fair upset of their own earlier in the season, tripping UCLA 21-10.

Michigan is tabbed a three-touchdown favorite over Purdue, but the Boilermakers 2-4 are the Big Ten's top passing team and rank second in total offense behind Ohio State with a 401.8-yard per game average. Michigan is third in total offense with a 381.3 average.

Aaron inks two year pact

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Hank Aaron has yet to hit a baseball for the Milwaukee Brewers, but the all-time home run king already has made a profound impact on his return to the city where he began his quest for stardom 21 years ago.

"I want to end my career here. My main challenge is to come back and bring a championship to this city that I love so dearly," Aaron said Thursday in his first appearance here since the Brewers obtained him in a trade with the Atlanta Braves Nov. 2.

Brewers' president Bud Selig announced that Aaron, who will be 41 Feb. 5, had signed a two-year contract as a player. Manager Del Crandall said Aaron will be used primarily as a designated hitter.

The news conference, described as the largest ever held here, was considered momentous enough to be televised locally live. The dozens of newsmen were joined by admiring dignitaries — including former Wisconsin Gov. Warren P. Knowles — and many cheered as Aaron entered the conference room at the downtown hotel.

Aaron, who hit 398 of his record 733 home runs for the old Milwaukee Braves from 1954 through 1965, said he was confident he could improve on his 1974 figures of a .268 batting average and 20 home runs.

He said the pressure of trying to surpass Babe Ruth's previous record of 714 career homers was past, and that not having to play in the field every day should help his stamina.

Booster drive

The Washington C. H. Blue Lion basketball boosters club will be holding its annual membership drive starting at 3 p.m. Saturday, according to club president Ben Jamison.

Jamison said the varsity and reserve basketball players will be canvassing the city's residential areas while the cheerleaders will be selling membership tickets in the downtown business district. . . . The tickets are priced at $2 per person.

The Care and Cure of Ulcers

When one speaks of an ulcer, the stomach ulcer usually comes to mind.

Actually, an ulcer is a sore, or crater, which can be found in the mouth, the esophagus, the intestines, the cornea of the eye, or on the skin.

Ulcers of the skin on the toes, the feet and the legs require concentrated care. They tend to become infected easily. In people with poor circulation, the ulcers invade the soft tissues, muscles, and even the bone.

Arteriosclerosis, diabetes, phlebitis, varicose veins, injuries, burns and frostbite can be responsible for ulcers which fail to heal.

Unless they are carefully treated there is great danger of complications.

Far too many legs have been amputated because people treated "tiny ulcers" for months before seeking the advice and guidance of a doctor.

Over-the-counter salves and antiseptic solutions recommended by enthusiastic friends may be harsh and impair the delicate healing mechanism of the ulcer.

A prime rule is that anyone with a persistent break in the skin must be treated by a physician. The elderly, especially, because their circulation is diminished, must not neglect this condition.

A child in my daughter's school was thought to have diphtheria. We were petrified, even though it was a false alarm. Isn't diphtheria a wiped-out disease?

Mrs. C.L.L., Tex.

Dear Mrs. L.:

Diphtheria would be a completely "wiped-out disease" if there were not carelessness in immunization.

Immunization with a diphtheria toxoid can prevent the disease.

However, more than 3,000 cases of diphtheria were reported in the United States between 1959 and 1970.

The Center for Disease Control in Atlanta, Ga., found that there were 253 deaths from diphtheria during this period. This is shocking evidence of carelessness in maintaining proper immunization.

These deaths were preventable. It is important that parents check the status of immunization in the family.

Polio, measles, rubella, tetanus, and whooping cough need not threaten the lives of our children.

DR. LESTER COLEMAN has prepared a special booklet entitled "What to Do About Ulcers." For your copy, send 25 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Lester L. Coleman, M.D. (Ulcer Booklet), P.O. Box 5178, Grand Central Station, New York City 10017. Please mention the booklet by title.

Bidding Quiz

Partner opens the bidding with One Diamond, you respond One Spade, and partner rebids One Notrump. What would you bid now with each of the following four hands?

1.  $\spadesuit$  AKJ63  $\heartsuit$  84  $\diamondsuit$  J5  $\clubsuit$  AJ72
2.  $\spadesuit$  KQ85  $\heartsuit$  64  $\diamondsuit$  943  $\clubsuit$  KQ72
3.  $\spadesuit$  AQ9742  $\heartsuit$  9  $\diamondsuit$  AJ65  $\clubsuit$  83
4.  $\spadesuit$  AJ87  $\heartsuit$  J9  $\diamondsuit$  J82  $\clubsuit$  KQ95

1. Three clubs. First, let's consider the meaning of partner's two bids. It is clear that he has a hand of the minimum class (12 to 15 points) with balanced distribution, probably 4-3-3-3, 4-4-3-2 or 5-3-3-2.

A game must obviously be reached, since you have an opening bid facing an opening bid, but it is not yet clear what the best contract is apt to be. If over three clubs partner bids three spades, you bid four; if he bids three notrump, you pass; if he bids four clubs, you bid five.

2. Pass. There is almost no chance for game, as partner has at most 15 points. There is also very little hope for improving the part score situation by bidding two clubs. Partner will probably make seven or eight tricks in notrump on high-card values alone, so the safest course of action is a pass.

3. Three diamonds. You can't play for less than game opposite an opening diamond bid, so you make a forcing bid to elicit more information.

If partner bids three spades, you bid four; if he bids three notrump you retreat to three spades, thus showing a six-card suit; if he bids four diamonds over three, you also bid four spades.

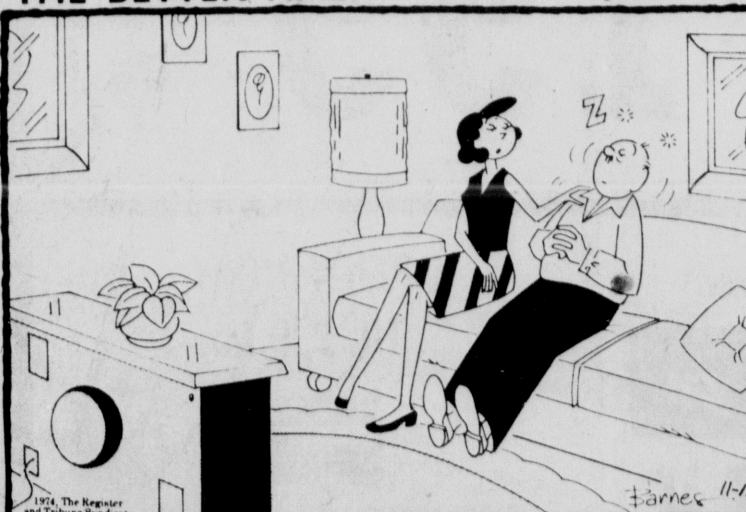

There is almost no chance for a slam after partner's signoff bid, and it is best to disregard those few magic hands he might have that would produce twelve tricks.

4. Three notrump. This is a slight stretch but three notrump comes closer to representing your true values than two notrump, which is the alternative bid. It is generally right to assume that partner shows 14 points by his opening bid and his notrump signoff, and your well-distributed 12 points ought to do the job.

A good case could be made for bidding only two notrump if your sprinkling of eights and nines were deuces and treys. There is a probability that one or two of these intermediate cards will prove helpful in producing nine tricks. Intermediate cards are seldom evaluated in point-count literature, but these lesser soldiers often pull a lot of weight.

SPORTSMAN'S HOLIDAY — More than 75 sportsmen assembled at the Bloomingburg town hall Friday morning to embark upon the annual hunting safari sponsored by the Bloomingburg

Sportsmen flock to Bloomingburg

BY GEORGE MALEK
BLOOMINGBURG — Some $3,000 will be pumped into the Bloomingburg area economy as a result of the annual Bloomingburg Lions Club's hunting safari. The two-day project opened Friday morning as nearly 80 hunters followed their guides into the Bloomingburg area "wilderness."

Sportsmen from as far as 100 miles away flocked to the small community to participate in the club-sponsored party. The cost per person is $30 a day.

THE PRICE includes a breakfast of coffee and doughnuts, a guide who escorts three to five hunters through the Bloomingburg countryside, an outstanding lunch, dinner, and care and feeding of the hunter's dogs.

The major expense for the club is the food which is purchased locally and served by the wives of the Lions Club members. Approximately two-thirds of the total income is profit which is then used for the philanthropic endeavors of the club.

Sight-saving programs receive most of the money earned. Glasses for needy children and adults, the purchase of seeing-eye dogs and donations to eye-research projects are the primary uses of the profits.

Clyde Cramer, president of the Bloomingburg Lions Club, explained that under the by-laws of Lions International all of the

Solons prodded to approve nomination of Rockefeller

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford has taken command of a Republican drive to blame the Democratic Congress for delaying Nelson A. Rockefeller's nomination as vice president.

The President said he ranks his choice of Rockefeller as the foremost achievement of his first 100 days in office. He said he could foresee no circumstances which would cause him to withdraw the nomination.

Ford's call to Congress to vote the nomination up or down by year's end coincided with a painstaking examination by the Senate Rules Committee of the two controversies that have contributed most to delaying confirmation.

The principal figure in one of these, former Supreme Court Justice Arthur J. Goldberg, refused to accept Rockefeller's apology for his long-concealed role in the financing of a critical Goldberg biography during a Rockefeller campaign against Goldberg. The panel today hears nine more witnesses explain their role in the complicated affair.

At a news conference in Phoenix,

Ariz., Ford told the Society of Professional Journalists, Sigma Delta Chi, that he will ask Congress to insert deadlines into the 25th Amendment to the Constitution to prevent prolonged future struggles over the succession to the nation's No. 2 governmental post.

Earlier Thursday, the Senate's two top Republican leaders used their positions on the Rules Committee to complain at length that Democratic footdragging was subverting the 25th Amendment for partisan political gain.

Senate Republican leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania took more than 15 minutes at one point to read excerpts from the original debate over the presidential succession amendment in which dozens of congressmen said its chief advantage was the speed with which a cooperative Congress could fill a vacancy in the vice presidency.

Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., the GOP whip, repeatedly expressed impatience at the delay which he said would cause Ford to leave the country on a trip to Southeast Asia next week without a vice president "on hand and in office to mind the store."

"What bothers some members of the Democratic majority is not that Rockefeller is so unqualified that he would be a poor vice president," Griffin said. "They are bothered that he might be too good," he asserted.

Democratic committee members — including Chairman Howard W. Cannon, D-Nev., and assistant Senate Democratic leader Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia — quickly disagreed.

Byrd, one of Rockefeller's most persistent interrogators, said the financing of the Goldberg biography and the large gifts and loans to public officials raise such fundamental questions of legality and ethics that he intends to take his time to air them thoroughly.

Only Wednesday, Byrd had said he saw no evidence to cause him to vote against Rockefeller's nomination, either in committee or in the Senate as a whole.

After the hearings Thursday, however, he said he would vote to report the nomination to the Senate floor but replied, "I'm not sure," when asked if he would vote for the nominee in the Senate.

Gas tax hike nixed

Ford urges Americans not to cut spending

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — President Ford has assured Americans they need not postpone purchases to help fight inflation and that he will not seek wage and price controls or higher gasoline taxes.

Fielding wide-ranging questions at an on-the-road news conference, Ford also said:

—He wants Congress to promptly confirm Nelson A. Rockefeller as vice president and stressed there are "no conditions I can imagine" that would force him to withdraw Rockefeller's nomination.

—He plans to make his trip to the Far East as scheduled next week.

—Republicans "took a licking" in last week's congressional elections because of past scandals and a slumping economy but that is no reason to change the GOP role as "a middle-of-the-road party."

—While the United States can't force Israel to negotiate with the Palestine Liberation Organization, he said "our plans are aimed at trying to get Israel to negotiate additional settlements" with Egypt and other Arab parties.

Ford held the news conference at a convention of the Society of Professional Journalists, Sigma Delta Chi, after a speech to a convention of real estate agents in Las Vegas where he altered the emphasis of his anti-inflation advice to American consumers.

The President previously had urged consumers to "save more" as one way

Downtown operation to continue

New Murphy store to locate near shopping center here

Lease negotiations have been completed and financing has been arranged for a new G.C. Murphy Co. store in Washington C.H., according to an announcement by J.M. Ellis Jr., company vice president in charge of real estate.

Construction of the new Murphy's Mart store should be launched within a month, he said.

THE NEW Murphy's Mart store, a one-stop shopping complex, will encompass 45,500 square feet near the existing Washington Square Shopping Center on Columbus Avenue, approximately one mile east of the downtown Washington C.H. business district.

The store will be situated on a tract of land between the present Buckeye Mart store and the Storybrook Addition on Columbus Avenue. Land for the new store was leased by the G.C. Murphy Co. from a corporation headed by William Hadler, a Columbus real estate developer. The Murphy's Mart store project will be developed by Hadler.

Ellis said that, at the present time, the firm has no plans to discontinue the operation of the G.C. Murphy Co. store, located at 101 E. Court Street. The downtown G.C. Murphy Co. store is managed by Lee S. Kraus.

G.C. Murphy Co. officials said negotiations are also underway for a large food store to accompany the new Murphy's Mart store, but details were not disclosed.

W.F. Greenleaf, president of the G.C. Murphy Co., said the Murphy's Mart program is the key element of the firm's expansion program. Presently there are 31 Murphy's Mart stores in operation, five of which are situated in Ohio at Gallipolis, Youngstown, Boardman, Warren and Kent.

The new retail facility will be a one-floor, checkout-type operation with merchandise lines displayed in related groupings according to natural shopping habits. The 12 major merchandise classifications in a Murphy's Mart store are fashion apparel, men's and boys' furnishings, fashion accessories, home furnishings, domestics, housewares, toys and hobbies, music, television and photograph equipment, writings and wrappings, candies, sporting goods, a tobacco shop and auto accessories.

IN ADDITION, the Washington C.H. Murphy's Mart store will feature a four-day auto service center, an indoor-outdoor seasonal shop and a modern restaurant.

The Fayette County Board of Health has issued a food service permit to the G.C. Murphy Co. for the restaurant facilities proposed in the store here.

The G.C. Murphy Co. is a Pennsylvania corporation with headquarters at McKeesport, Pa. Company sales for 1973 were $470.2 million, an increase of $41 million over 1972 sales.

76 per cent reached

Community Chest campaign ended

The 1975 Community Chest drive officially ended Friday, according to Otis R. Hess Jr., president of the Chest's board of directors. The drive ended short of the established $28,000 goal.

Hess stated that follow-up calls will be made attempting to reach those with late contributions. The goal of $28,000 will be sought during the remainder of the year to assure the 1975 allocations to 10 participating agencies can be met in January as previously planned.

Pam Landrum, secretary-treasurer for this year's Community Chest campaign, announced that to date $21,473.45 has been collected or pledged toward the 1975 goal. The $21,000 figure represents 76 per cent of the $28,000 goal. Miss Landrum stated that the Community Chest contributions have risen only one per cent over last week's total.

AREA RESIDENTS are urged to assist in the worthy cause which benefits the Boy Scouts, the Camp Fire Girls, the Community Activity Fund, the Community Education program, the Girl Scouts, the Mental Health Association, Eyman Park, the Red Cross, the Salvation Army and the Senior Citizens Center.

Any person wishing to contribute to the campaign can send a check to Box 598, in care of the Community Chest, or stop in at the Washington C.H. Area Chamber of Commerce office, 147 S. Fayette St.

To date, 33 individuals, businesses, industries or employ groups have contributed $100 or more the Community Chest and are recognized as 1975 Red Feather Club members.

The 33 Red Feather Club members are Mac Tools, Inc., Coffman Stair Co., John Breiner, the Midland Grocery Co., Carroll Halliday, Inc., Neil Helfrich, Howard Wright, the Basic Construction Materials Co., Tom Mark, Dr. Marvin H. Roszmann, Dr. Joseph M. Herbert, the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home, Henry and Mary Brownell, Dr. Ralph Gebhart, Otis Hess, the Sears and Roebuck Co., Yeoman Radio and TV, the Dr. Heinz Co., the First National Bank, Pennington Bread, Inc., Armo to help in the battle against inflation, but he told the real estate agents he strongly opposes suggestions that the best way to defeat inflation is to curtail buying.

He defended his economic proposals, declaring "I see no justification for any major revisions" in the package he presented Congress last month.

As for wage and price controls, Ford declared anew that he will not ask Congress to enact mandatory or standby controls and that there are "no circumstances I foresee today that would justify" such controls.

When asked whether he had in mind any tax increases other than his proposed five per cent surtax, Ford responded "no."

He nixed talk of a possible gasoline tax increase. The talk had been spurred anew by Interior Secretary Rogers C. B. Morton's assertion this week that such a tax boost was under consideration as an alternative.

The President scorned suggestions that the nation faces a possible depression. He said his economic proposals and existing safeguards such as unemployment insurance would prevent any depression.

Other tenants in the Washington Square Shopping Center are Buckeye Mart, Revco Drug, Sunshine Cleaners, Scott's Variety Store, the First National Bank branch office, the Anderson Paint store, Frosty's Sweet Shoppe, Monique Fabrics, the Washington Square Barber Shop and the office of Dr. John E. Tyler, a chiropractor. A building, formerly occupied by a P&Q shoe store, is presently vacant. Parking facilities in the Washington Square Shopping Center presently accommodate approximately 1,000 cars.

Jet fuel produced from coal possible

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Can jets fly on fuel made from shale oil and coal?

That's a question the National Aeronautics and Space Administration is teaming up with the Air Force to answer. They have begun a nine-year, $8 million study of the question as part of an effort to reduce the air transport industry's reliance on the nation's dwindling supplies of petroleum.

"We need to know the differences between shale oil and coal-based fuels and the kerosene-based fuel we use now," said Richard Rudey, chief of the Pollution and Combustion branch of NASA's Lewis Research Center here.

"And we need to know whether the alternate fuels will hurt jet engines," he added.

NASA is carrying on tests of the alternate fuels' effects on jet engine combustion chambers. The Air Force, with the help of the Exxon Corp., is studying the fuels' compatibility with jet fuel systems at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base in Dayton.

Aircraft account for 8 per cent of the nation's petroleum consumption, NASA says, with demand increasing as the industry grows.

Shale oil and coal are the principal alternatives to petroleum as a fuel source, and conservative estimates say the U.S. has four times as much oil in shale as in petroleum, according to NASA.

Techniques to economically extract oil from shale have not been developed and demonstrated full scale yet, so testing at Lewis is conducted with blends that duplicate expected characteristics of the new fuels.

Crude oil made from coal may be high in aromatics, compounds which increase engine exhaust pollution, he said. Experiments adding hydrogen in the production process will attempt to reduce the aromatic content, he said.

Nonsynthetic fuels being tested at Lewis are burned in a JTD8 jet engine which conforms to 1979 Environmental Protection Agency antipollution standards, Rudey said.

The limit of extraction technology is one reason little research has been done on applications of shale oil and coal-based fuels to aircraft. Rudey said that for the duration of the tests, NASA and the Air Force will need about 500,000 gallons of the alternate fuels. Once the results of the combustion tests are known and alternate fuels can be produced in large quantity.

Big Skylab payoff

An insistent question always arises when one seeks to assess various space ventures. It is, in simplest terms, the question whether the enormous cost is justified by the benefits derived from this or that undertaking.

A report from scientists at the space facility in Huntsville, Ala.,

indicates that the Skylab project may ultimately not only pay for itself but return a handsome dividend. Photographs and other solar data gathered by Skylab crews greatly increased knowledge of the sun's internal mechanisms. It is said that this may speed up by several years the effort to harness thermonuclear fusion as a power source. It would be hard to exaggerate the importance of this: the fusion process would provide all but limitless energy for many generations to come. If Skylab has brought this significantly closer, as we are told, whatever was paid for the project was a sound investment.

THESE DAYS . . . By John Chamberlain

In the midst of the second cold war

I spent election day reading Richard Whalen's perceptive "Taking Sides: A Personal View of America from Kennedy to Nixon to Kennedy," and found myself not liking my thoughts.

Dick Whalen was, briefly, a favored Nixon speechwriter, but at the Republican convention of 1968 he quarrelled with John Ehrlichman over the question of a speechwriter's access to the candidate whose ideas he was supposedly helping to shape. When Ehrlichman contemptuously dismissed him as a "writer-researcher type," Whalen correctly deduced that a Nixon Administration would be run by "monopolizing men" with no idea beyond insuring their own exclusive control of the Imperial Presence.

Whalen didn't want to work for courtiers, so he quit the fold. How right he was about the Haldeman-

Ehrlichman camorra, which ultimately undid Richard Nixon, did not become plain until Watergate.

Dick Whalen has a most uncomfortable habit of being right. He was right when he distinguished between the phony aspects of John F. Kennedy's Camelot and the better side of Kennedy, who was patriotic to the core. He was right when he counseled Nixon to stop the drain of the Vietnam War, which could have been accomplished long before 1972 by a more daring diplomacy combined with the military force against Hanoi's rear that Nixon finally decided to use.

And he was right when he predicted that no good would come out of Nixon's theory of "politics as conspiracy," which may do well enough in campaign years but does not know how to utilize power constructively once it has been achieved.

What bothers me specifically about Whalen's new book is his feeling that we are now in the middle of what he calls "the Second Cold War" without even knowing we are there. During the long agony of Watergate, Nixon had to hang on to detente as if it were an assured success. He gave up more than he should have in SALT I.

But the blame for our national sleepwalking should not all be heaped on Nixon's shoulders. When Robert McNamara was Secretary of Defense, he believed, quite without evidence, that Soviet strategic policy would change if only the U.S. would cut its spending on innovative arms. The notion was that if we were to take nuclear stalemate as our goal, the Soviets would welcome the surcease and seek to match it.

It hasn't happened that way. No doubt that present Soviet nuclear edge would not in itself assure a Communist victory in all-out atomic war. As the saying goes, both sides have enough to kill each other several times over. But Soviet nuclear superiority means that the growing Communist naval power can be utilized, both as a threat and a "presence," to win bloodless victories all around the world. Soviet submarines menace the U.S. even in the Caribbean.

Dick Whalen has read the British political geographer Halford Mackinder with great profit.

"Geographically," says Whalen, "the non-Communist centers of order in the world, with the exception of Western Europe, are insular."

And Western Europe itself, even as southern Asia from Saudi Arabia to Indochina, consists of a number of peninsulas. With a nuclear standoff assured, the battle for the trade lines and eventually the governments of island and peninsula countries will go as naval supremacy goes.

So the Second Cold War has its maritime coloration. Whalen quotes ominously from Adm. Elmo Zumwalt's speech about 1973 being "the year in which the proud United States Navy falls behind in what has always been its number one position."

Whalen doesn't see much help in our present political parties. The Democrats have been taken over by "upper-middle-class, left-liberal Democrats" who remember John F. Kennedy's chic, but not his commitment to real excellence. The Republicans are demoralized. But there is hope: "The American people," he says, "have not failed as citizens — they have been failed."

Whalen hopes for better Republican leadership, but what depressed me most about his book was his inability to tell us where the leaders are hiding. I felt like saying, "Name one."

Demo leadership fight predicted

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— Now that Democrats have realized their long dream of taking over the Ohio Senate, the campaign is on for the $25,000-a-year political plum of majority leader.

The present leader of the Democratic minority, Anthony O. Calabrese, D-22 Cleveland, thinks the job rightfully should be his.

As dean of Senate Democrats, it is up to Calabrese to call a party caucus for the purpose of electing a majority leader. He appears to be in no hurry. He may not have the votes nailed down.

One announced challenger is veteran Sen. Oliver Ocasek, D-27 Akron. Ocasek thinks election of five new Democratic senators can tilt the race his way. The five includes two House members elected to the Senate Nov. 5 — Donald J. Pease of Oberlin and John T. McCormack of Euclid.

Ocasek said, "I think my chances have improved with these new people coming in."

Ocasek lost his bid for the leadership job to Calabrese in 1971.

One holdover senator who did not want to get involved publicly said both contenders claim they have six to seven votes. "Some they claim are the same people," he said.

It will take 11 votes to win the job. The senator said, "I have talked to seven and every one of them told me he is neutral right now. Whoever it is, it will have to be someone who can stand up to Jim Rhodes."

He referred to the apparent Republican Gov.-elect James A. Rhodes.

Democrats will control the next Senate, 21-12.

Rep. C. William O'Neill, R-28 Columbus, son of Ohio's chief justice re-elected to a second House term, tried to make the most of a sad election night for his party, which lost just about everything in the legislature. "I guess we will be able to hold a caucus in the telephone booth," he said.

One nice thing about being a state senator with a four-year term is that it gives aspiring politicians a chance to run for higher office in mid-term without taking a chance of winding up unemployed.

Sen. Ronald M. Mottl, D-24 Parma, took a chance and wound up with a seat in Congress.

Sen. Tony P. Hall, D-6 Dayton, ran for secretary of state and lost, but retained his $17,500-a-year Senate job and political base.

Senate Democrats will name a successor to Mottl on the recommendation of his county committee.

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Hubby should quit keeping score

DEAR ABBY: I am 44 and Louie (my husband) is 49. I work in a laundry ten hours a day, and when night time comes I need a rest. Louie still acts like a teen-ager when it comes to sex. He can't get enough.

On weekends if we go for a drive in the country, Louie starts looking for an abandoned farmhouse or a secluded road. When we go for a walk in the woods, Louie looks for some bushes for us to crawl under. (We were nearly caught several times.)

I got so tired of being hounded for sex, I made Louie ask our family doctor how much sex was normal for people our age. The doc said three times a week was normal, so now Louie keeps a record. If it's less than three times a week, he says I owe him, and he adds it on to the next week.

I am falling behind, and dread the thought of going on a vacation trip with this man. Any suggestions?

DEAR TIRED: The time for sex is when BOTH partners are agreeable. Louie shouldn't feel that he's entitled to a certain number of encounters, and you shouldn't be made to feel that you "owe" it to him. Tell him to quit keeping score—you'll tell him when you're ready.

DEAR ABBY: Please tell me what to do with a 10-year-old boy who is such a coward he lets every kid in the neighborhood (some younger and smaller than he is) pick on him and boss him around.

He won't stand up for his rights. In fact, he will run away from a fight rather than try to defend himself.

My husband and I have scolded him and even punished him, but it hasn't done any good. How can we get him to change?

He's not stupid. He loves sports, except boxing and wrestling. Or are some kids born to run from a fight?

DEAR ASHAMED: What's so great about exchanging punches? There is a lot to be said for avoiding physical combat, so don't scold or punish you son if he chooses to go the nonviolent route.

DEAR ABBY: This is for "DOOMED," who wanted a big wedding but didn't know if his parents should help her parents foot the bill because of tradition.

I am getting married next month, and when my fiancé and I became engaged, his parents offered to split the bills straight down the middle. They figured that their son is also getting married, and they should help pay for the wedding.

This has helped my parents immensely, and now we can have the big wedding we've both always dreamed of.

HAPPY IN CLEVELAND
DEAR HAPPY: I'm happy too. Happy that someone has had the courage to break with tradition in the interest of fairness and common sense. Maybe you'll start a new tradition. I hope so.

DEAR ABBY: A widow wrote to tell you how her grown children removed all her husband's possessions immediately after he had died suddenly. They didn't consult her first, and she was crushed.

I can understand that. Going through the belongings of a loved one, keeping some to cherish, giving some to others who loved him too, can be a great comfort in the agonizing stages of one's grief.

I lost my teen-age son, Steve, in a motorcycle accident. He sang, played the guitar and had grown so tall and handsome. So many people loved him and still do.

I will treasure some of the items he used in his everyday life. They were part of my life, too. I'm glad no one did me the favor of getting rid of all his belongings.

Today In History

By The Associated Press
Today is Friday, Nov. 15, the 319th day of 1974. There are 46 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:
On this date in 1777, the Articles of Confederation were approved by the American Continental Congress. The document was the law of the land until the Constitution went into effect.

In 1492, Christopher Columbus noted in his journal the use of tobacco among the Indians. It was the first recorded reference to tobacco.

In 1805, the Lewis and Clark expedition reached the mouth of the Columbia River after a long trek across the West.

In 1806, Pike's Peak in Colorado was discovered by explorer Zebulon Montgomery Pike.

In 1889, the Republic of Brazil was founded.

In 1935, Manuel Quezon was inaugurated as the first president of the Philippine Commonwealth.

In 1970, thousands of persons were killed in a typhoon and tidal wave in East Pakistan.

Ten years ago: The U.N. Security Council said it would meet in urgent session at the request of Israel and Syria to consider an outbreak of hostilities on the border between the two countries.

Five years ago: A quarter of a million protestors against the Vietnam War staged a peaceful demonstration in Washington, D.C.

First Baptist Church

Local First Baptist Church schedules dedication events

The First Baptist Church, located at the corner of East and North streets, will hold open house and dedication ceremonies for its new building Sunday.

Included in the services will be the laying of a cornerstone at 2:30 p.m. with the building contractor and church building committee in charge.

The dedication ceremony will begin at 3:30 p.m. in the church with various speakers and activities.

The invocation and scripture reading

will be given by the Revs. Francis T. McCarty of Toledo, and Douglas Peters of Troy, both former pastors of the local church.

The presentation of the keys will be made by the contractor, Barth Wenrick of The Wenrick Construction Co., architect, William Berry of G.E. Associates, and co-chairmen of the building committee, James A. Kiger and Carl Krieger.

A litany of dedication will be given by the present minister of the church, the Rev. Ralph F. Worlford.

The Rev. George Calhoun of the Ohio Baptist Convention in Granville will give the dedication sermon with a public open house and reception to be held continuously from 2-5:30 p.m.

Construction of the new church began on Sept. 21, 1973 with finishing touches still being added in the building today. Services were started in the building for the first time in July of 1974 before the church pews were even installed, with the congregation being seated on chairs.

The new building was planned and approved after the church building committee and board of trustees consulted an architect about their former, 85-year-old structure, which had stood since being built after the First Baptist Church sanctuary was leveled by a tornado in 1885.

It was decided at that time to demolish the ancient structure and construct the modern sanctuary, which was designed by G.E. Associates in Flint, Mich., and constructed by the Wenrick Construction Co., of Medway.

Members of the church building committee besides the co-chairmen were Paul Brunner, Raymond Burchfield, Kenneth Chaney, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hurtt, Chester Howell, Howard Kelley, Kenneth Kelley, Thomas Mossbarger, Norman Parks, James Polson, Robert Provost, Frank Reno, Norman Thomas and Rev. Worlford.

Two women delegates to Jerusalem meeting

Mrs. Elizabeth Satterfield and Mrs. Robert Zimmerman of the Jeffersonville United Methodist Church will be delegates at "The World United Methodist Evangelism Convocation" in Jerusalem, Nov. 16-23.

The two women will depart from Columbus International Airport Saturday and return Nov. 23.

The convocation will launch a worldwide "Mission to the World" by the Methodist Church. The concluding service of commitment will be held Nov. 22 at Shepherds Fields near Bethlehem.

Representatives from across the world will be participating in the convocation. Bishop F. Gerald Ensley of Ohio will be the general chairman of the meetings. Other leaders will include Bishop Carlos Gattinoni of Argentina; Dr. Samuel Kamaleson of India; and Dr. Alan Walker of Australia.

In deep appreciation of her many contributions to the religious life of the Jeffersonville community, members of the local United Methodist Church congregation joined in paying the expenses of Mrs. Satterfield so that she could represent the church at the event.

The local church will be host to a visiting pastor from either Australia or Japan in the spring of 1975. The visit will serve as a sequel to the World Meeting.

Covered dish supper slated

The Madison-Mills United Methodist Church will hold a covered dish supper at 6 p.m. Sunday.

Following the meal, a song fest, led by Mrs. Steve Huff and accompanied by Mrs. Paul Huff, will be held in the church sanctuary, according to the Rev. Harold J. Messmer, pastor of the church.

A concert by a black church choir from Cincinnati, which had been previously scheduled for Sunday evening at the church, will not be presented until a later date.

Additional church news can be found on page 10 of today's edition.

Holiday workshop held at Fish and Game Lodge

An atmosphere of the Christmas holidays prevailed at the Fish and Game Lodge recently when five Fayette Garden Clubs met for a holiday workshop. Decorations, arts and crafts, and nearly 50 flower arrangements were made and displayed by Mrs. Mabel Shoup of Dayton.

The Lodge was the perfect setting for the workshop, and a fire in the log fireplace with sprinkles of snow out-of-doors added to the setting.

Mrs. Shoup used three long tables for her display of candles, arrangements, and items for around the home such as wreaths, rattan mats, and miniature oil lamps entwined with holly.

A carry-in dinner was enjoyed at the noon hour and Mrs. Roxie Thompson gave the invocation preceding the meal.

The five county clubs were represented by the Washington Garden Club: Mrs. Donald Meredith, contact chairman, Mrs. Jean T. Craig, Mrs. T.N. Willis, Mrs. Eulalia Wade, Mrs. Robert Wilson, Mrs. Bud Hooks, Mrs.

Herbert Dawes, Mrs. Orville Hurtt and Mrs. Eugene Cook.

From the Posy Club were Mrs. Esther Schlichter, Mrs. Dorothy Bihl, and Mrs. Medrith Hanawalt; Town and County Club was represented by Mrs. Mary Belle Biddle, Mrs. Lois Duff, Mrs. Roxie Thompson, Mrs. Mary Baumann and Mrs. Barbara Armintrout.

Miss Flowers, Mr. Leeth exchange marriage vows

First Christian Church was the setting for the marriage of Miss Jill Lynne Flowers and Rick D. Leeth. The Rev. Ray Russell performed the double ring ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Flowers, 422 Fourth St., and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mervyn Brown of 3458 Culpepper Trace Rd.

Altar vases held yellow snapdragons and yellow carnations and candelabra had yellow satin ribbons. Satin ribbon bows with leather leaf marked the pews.

Mrs. Wayne Spangler presented a one-half hour of wedding music.

Miss Flowers wore a gown of white nylonorgana with V-neckline scattered with seed pearls on ruffles. The long fitted sleeves were edged in ruffles and full skirt was also edged in ruffles. The detachable chapel-length train also ended in a ruffle. She carried a cascade bouquet of white Fuji mums and sonia roses.

Maid of honor Miss Karen Melvin wore a melon chiffon gown with long sleeves trimmed with white lace. Miss

April Flowers the bride's sister, and Miss Michaline Trimmer were bridesmaids. They wore yellow and orange chiffon gowns with long sleeves and white lace.

Miss Melvin carried two yellow roses and the bridesmaids each carried a single yellow rose.

Rex Leeth served as best man for his brother. Bob Brown, Ronnie Brown and Mike Morris seated the wedding guests.

Mrs. Flowers and Mrs. Brown wore yellow rose corsages.

Hostesses for the reception held at the church were Mrs. Charles Ford, Mrs. Roger L. West, Miss Starr Howell, Miss Vickie Bryan. The bride's table had appointments of crystal. A three-tiered yellow and orange decorated wedding cake centered the table.

The bride is attending Laurel Oaks Vocational School and the groom, a 1974 graduate of Miami Trace High School, is serving in the U.S. Navy, and stationed at Great Lakes, Ill.

G.C. Murphy store honors employees

The local G.C. Murphy Company store played host to employees and their families Wednesday evening during its annual Open House Party. The party gave employees an opportunity to do some Christmas shopping.

The store was decorated in typical Christmas fashion. Refreshments were served and drawings for prizes took place. Winners were Miriam Pollard, Howard Gardener, Miss Brenda Lower and Miss Janet Deakne.

DAYP Club entertained

Mrs. Arthur Pettit was hostess to the DAYP Club when 10 members and four guests assembled in her home. Guests were Mrs. Steven Merritt and Staci, Krista Pettit and Mrs. John Martindale. A buffet-style noon dinner was enjoyed.

The afternoon was spent sewing on various items. The next meeting will be the Christmas party and gift exchange Dec. 14 in the home of Mrs. Alex Wackman.

Those present were Mrs. Carl Wilt Sr., Mrs. Leonard Blessing, Mrs. Orris Mallow, Mrs. Ruth Smith, Mrs. Ella Speakman, Mrs. Howard Williams, Mrs. Charles Burke, Mrs. Clifton Roberts and Mrs. Imel Howard.

Illegal aliens milking economy

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The commissioner of the Immigration and Naturalization Service says one million jobs could become available for citizens and legal residents within a few months if a law against hiring illegal aliens were passed.

Leonard F. Chapman Jr. made that prediction Thursday while in town to visit the service's Cleveland District office.

He said the Rodino Bill, passed by the House and now pending in the Senate, would make it mandatory for an employer to determine that a person is in this country legally before offering employment. Fines for hiring illegal aliens would range up to $1,000 per alien.

Chapman said it is not unlawful now to hire aliens who are in the United States illegally. He said legislation is needed "that will turn off the economic attraction and make it difficult for illegal aliens to find jobs."

During the last fiscal year the Immigration Service apprehended 800,000 persons for being in the country illegally and expects to increase that figure to one million this year, Chapman said at a news conference.

He said that besides adding to the unemployment problem, illegal aliens avoid millions of dollars in federal income taxes.

Most of the illegal aliens apprehended last year walked across U.S. borders without any kind of clearance or visa, Chapman said.

"They simply entered the country, found a job and started earning money—most of which they sent out of the country to their families back home," he continued. "For every one we caught, probably three or four escaped detection."

Chapman said the illegal alien population in the United States is "at least six or seven million, and possibly as high as 10 to 12 million."

The U.S. immigration laws permit only 400,000 permanent residents to enter the country each year, he said.

He said that a few years ago the illegal alien problem in the United States was confined mainly to agriculture in the Southwest but now it is spread all over the country.

He said about one-third of the illegal aliens in the country are employed in agriculture, one-third in industry and one-third in services and they are paid from $4.50 to $9 an hour.

Nude sleeper faces tests

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Sleeping nude outdoors in the rain and becoming belligerent when police investigate warrants a psychiatric examination, Hamilton County Municipal Court Judge Donald Schott ruled.

"That is ridiculous," said Rachel Bilbery, 37, convicted of disorderly conduct. "I have a master's degree and you want me to see a psychiatrist?"

She was arrested Aug. 17. Police said they found her at 5 a.m. sleeping nude in her backyard, but under a blanket. Police said Miss Bilbery objected when they questioned her. Ronald Thomas, 31, heard the commotion and joined her.

Police said the two were uncooperative and hostile. They charged him with resisting arrest following a scuffle.

Judge Schott also ordered a psychiatric test for Thomas.

Former Mead Corp. president succumbs

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio (AP) — Funeral arrangements were pending today for George H. Pringle, 71, retired president and director of the Mead Corp. He died Thursday in his Chillicothe home.

Pringle retired as president of the company in 1968.

Sato says Ford must pay visit

TOKYO (AP) — Elder statesman Eisaku Sato said today it's too late to think of postponing President Ford's visit to Japan.

"We can't question whether the timing is good or bad," said the former prime minister and co-winner of the Nobel Peace Prize this year.

"Ford's visit is already scheduled. In dealing with the supreme leader in international affairs, to change the schedule would be like trying to stop a locomotive already traveling down the tracks. It's not as simple as changing the time for some ordinary person like me."

Since Ford's visit was scheduled for Nov. 18-22, the political future of Prime Minister Kakuei Tanaka has been put in doubt by charges that he used his official position to increase his fortune.

Leftist opposition to the visit took a violent form Thursday for the first time with a firebomb attack on the American and Soviet embassies, but the anti-American demonstrations have been negligible compared with the violence that forced cancellation of President Eisenhower's visit in 1960.

"Tanaka still represents the Japanese people. Through him, the nation confers with Ford," Sato said in an interview.

He added that should the prime minister be forced out soon after the President leaves Japan next Friday, American leaders would be prepared for such a move and it would not hurt relations between the two governments.

"America is a reliable partner for us," Sato said. "Amiable relations will be maintained, I foresee."

Shooting defendants enter innocent pleas

HILLSBORO — Two Greenfield area men, indicted by the Highland County grand jury on three charges a piece in connection with a shooting incident at the residence of a Greenfield police officer, pleaded innocent to the charges during arraignment proceedings held Thursday afternoon in Highland County Common Pleas Court.

Vernon R. Jenkins, 23, of Greenfield, and Rex A. Erskine, 21, Rt. 2, Greenfield, entered not guilty pleas to charges of felonious assault, discharging a firearm from a motor vehicle and malicious vandalism Thursday. Jenkins reserved a plea on the charge of discharging a firearm from a motor vehicle.

Highland County Common Pleas Court Judge Darrell Hottle continued $5,000 bond on the two defendants in addition to a $2,500 supplemental bond.

Jenkins was represented by Jon Hapner, of Hillsboro, while Dennis P. Ulrich, a Washington C.H. attorney, is serving as defense counsel for Erskine.

The two defendants were arrested by Greenfield police officers and deputies from the Highland County Sheriff's Department following a shooting incident at the home of Greenfield Police Sgt. Gregory H. Hadley, Ohio 28, just west of Greenfield.

Deputy transports prisoner to pen

Fayette County Sheriff's Sgt. John L. Emrick transported a prisoner from the Fayette County jail to the Ohio Reformatory in Mansfield, at 9:20 a.m. Thursday, Sheriff Donald L. Thompson reported.

Sgt. Emrick took Kenneth E. Haley, 22, of 1135 Paint St., to the institution on a warrant to convey issued by the Fayette County Common Pleas Court.

Haley was sentenced from one to 10 years in the reformatory by Fayette County Common Pleas Court Judge Evelyn W. Coffman, after being found guilty of kidnapping.

Miller attempts to sell coal pact

WASHINGTON (AP) — United Mine Workers President Arnold Miller is trying to sell his union's 120,000 striking coal miners on the proposed new contract he spent nine weeks hammering out with the coal industry.

Miller began presenting the 175-page document to the UMW's 38-member bargaining council of executive board members and regional officers Thursday night. The council must approve the settlement before it can be presented to the union's rank-and-file, who since Tuesday have struck mines which produce 70 per cent of the nation's coal.

Miller and aides have been explaining the contract line by line to the council.

The UMW president has predicted that the package, which includes sizeable wage and benefit increases, would be ratified by the membership, possibly in time to end the nationwide walkout before Thanksgiving.

But there have been indications from the coal fields that some miners are less than enthusiastic over the package.

In southern West Virginia, where some union members have been traditionally skeptical of union leadership, miners have criticized the absence in the proposed contract of a right to strike over local issues.

'Dum dum' bullets defended by police

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Two Cincinnati policemen asserted Thursday that survival and protection must be the key considerations in the controversy over using hollownosed, "dum dum" bullets.

"Law enforcement officers have all these rules you have to live by, but criminals don't have to abide by these rules," said Spec. Charles Asimus of the robbery squad.

Asimus said ammunition now used is obsolete—"the stuff our grandfathers used 30 years ago. They have so much velocity they can go through a person and he can still shoot back."

So much controversy has been waged over the bullets, which are banned in international warfare, that the city has delayed the police proposal and called for a fact-finding study.

Opposition to the bullets comes from the fact that they flatten out on impact causing larger wounds and many more deaths and permanent injuries than normal bullets.

Police counter that this should not matter in criminal cases, that the rounds do not ricochet like others and that the dum-dums would not pass through the criminal and injure innocent bystanders.

Asimus said he shot a bank robber through the chest during a confrontation some years ago. "He went down but still got off three shots."

Homemade dum-dum ammunition saved his life five years ago, said Ptl. Dan Patterson.

He was shot in the abdomen at close range by a rape suspect.

"He stood over me and shot me again in the arm and a third time in the leg. Because he was using standard ammunition, without the shocking power of hollowpoints, I was still able to draw my gun," said Patterson.

"I shot him in the chest with one of my altered bullets and the impact sent him flying across the room. It saved my life because otherwise he probably would have emptied his gun into me," Patterson said.

They say this right is important to avoid federal court orders that were issued against local walkouts under the old contract. Organizers of a petition drive supporting a right-to-strike clause claim they have more than 3,000 signatures.

For the contract to take effect, it

Minor mishaps investigated

Fayette County Sheriff's deputies and Washington C. H. police officers each reported an accident today in which no injuries were sustained and no citations were issued.

Cars driven by Jenifer L. Bailey, 19, of 615 Harrison St., and Gary M. Pettit, 20, of 217 East St., collided on S. Fayette Street, near the East Street intersection at 1:44 p.m. Thursday, police reported.

Damage to the Pettit auto was estimated by police as moderate and damage to the Bailey car was estimated as slight.

A semi driven by Julius N. Euganks, 63, of Gadsden, Ala., and owned by Ryder Truck Rental of Birmingham, Ala., pulled next to a truck parked at Garner's Union 76 Station, 1-71 and U.S. 35, owned by Robert W. Houser of Brockton, N.Y., and damaged it extensively.

Fayette County Sheriff's deputies reported the damage was caused when Euganks' right rear semi wheels brushed the front fender of the Houser truck and also hit a Honda Trail 90 motorcycle fastened to the front of Houser's vehicle.

The mishap, which occurred at 4:25 a.m. Thursday, resulted in only slight damage to the semi.

Courts

JUVENILE COURT

Fifteen-year-old Fredrick Sprouse, his 13-year-old brother William, and Tommy Wilson, 14, all of Columbus, have been found delinquent by Juvenile Judge Rollo M. Marchant.

The trio had been arrested by city police for operating a motor vehicle without the consent of the owner. All were remanded to the Franklin County Juvenile Court for disposition.

DIVORCE ACTION DISMISSED

The divorce action filed in Common Pleas Court by Ruth Ann Smith, Washington Manor Court, against Timothy W. Smith Sr., has been dismissed at the request of the plaintiff.

CIVIL SUIT FILED

William H. Igo, Miami Trace Road, has filed suit in Common Pleas Court against the All American Life and Casualty Co., Chicago, Ill., and Phillip Rogers, Staunton-Jasper Rd., agent for the firm.

The plaintiff claims that the insurance company has refused to pay him hospitalization and disability coverage included in his policy. He is seeking $667 in compensatory damages and $10,000 in punitive damage.

CIVIL SUIT JUDGMENT

The suit filed in Common Pleas Court by Robert Pavey, Leesburg, against Gary Cockerill, Leesburg, Has been settled by a judgment ordering the plaintiff to pay $150 to the defendant.

The original petition claimed that the defendant had refused to return 20 hogs to the plaintiff, their owner. However, the defendant claimed that the hogs had wandered onto his property and destroyed some of his crops, and that he was holding the hogs until the plaintiff paid for the damages.

Judge Evelyn W. Coffman ordered that Cockerill return the hogs and that Pavey give to the defendant $150 for damages.

must be ratified by a majority of the UMW membership. It is the first time in at least half a century that miners have had the right to vote on a new contract proposal.

Most criticism of the tentative settlement has been directed at so-called noneconomic issues. The economic section of the proposal calls for 15 per cent salary increases over the three-year contract period, plus additional cost of living raises. Miners now make between $42 and $50 a day.

The proposal would also increase pensions, for miners who have already retired, from the current $150 a month to $250 a month at the end of the contract period, and would provide even bigger pensions for future retirees. The contract also would provide sick leave for the first time, a new sickness and health protection plan, longer vacations and more holidays.

The ratification process is expected to take 10 days. If the contract wins approval, that would limit the four-day old walkout to a total of two-weeks.

The strike has already triggered lay-off notices for more than 15,000 workers in the steel and railroad industries, however a two-week strike was not anticipated to have major consequences on the economy beyond these coal-related industries.

Government economists have said that a longer walkout could result in the laying off of thousands of other industrial workers and have a potentially devastating effect on the nation's already ailing economy.

IN THE COURT OF COMMON PLEAS,
PROBATE DIVISION
FAYETTE COUNTY, OHIO
Bertha M. Leach, Surviving Spouse of Wilbur L. Leach, Dec'd, Plaintiff, vs. Bertha M. Leach, Administratrix of the Estate of Wilbur L. Leach, Dec'd, et al., Defendants.
No. 7410 PC 4987
LEGAL NOTICE

Charles Leach, whose residence and last known address are both unknown, will take notice that on the 4th day of October, 1974, Bertha M. Leach, surviving spouse of Wilbur L. ## Recession real to consumers

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Some of the most simply explained activities of our economy are buried today in a clutter of confusion, hidden by complex terminology and definitions that, summed up, often are irrelevant.

No term is more obscure than "recession."

Is there a recession? Yes, there is. Stripped of all the asterisks and academic limitations or exceptions or qualifications, there is a recession of economic activity.

The current quarter, in fact, is the fourth straight one in which the economy, rather than growing, has shrunk. The shrinkage amounted to 7 per cent in the first quarter, 1.6 in the second and 2.9 in the third.

But for a recession to be official mustn't it be proclaimed by the National Bureau of Economic Research, a private organization, or the President or the Council of Economic Advisers?

If any group is qualified to make this determination it is the consumer, who is today more powerful and influential than either business or government. And the consumer, through surveys and studies, has declared a recession exists.

Prof. George Katona, the dean of consumer behaviorists, for years associated with the Survey Research Center at Ann Arbor, Mich., reduced the consumer definition of recession to this:

"Prosperous times, so people feel, are those in which they live better than a year or two earlier, while there is a recession if they live worse."

"According to this criterion, a recession set in toward the beginning of 1974."

For reasons sometimes as obscure as the definition of recession itself, many people aren't satisfied with that explanation, even though it coincides with the more scientifically precise definition so often given.

A recession occurs, many economists agree, when there exists two straight quarters of declining production. Some, however, aren't willing to concede the fact until it is so pronounced by the National Bureau, which might get around to a decision long after the recession has ended.

Some students of consumer behavior like to point out that sometimes the government is much slower than the general population to recognize the onset of recession. The government relies on statistics; the people rely more on instinct and subjective surveys.

To some degree, in fact, the government statistics are only a delayed reflection of what has already been decided by consumers; these figures record rather than forecast the event.

While the precise and complicated definitions have their uses, the psychological condition of consumers can never be ignored, because it is they who buy the cars and homes and food.

If the consumer feels there is a recession, therefore, the economist is likely to find verification in his figures, but several weeks or months later.

Caniff rites set Saturday

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — "She was very proud of my thing; she lived more or less for it," syndicated comic strip artist Milton Caniff said, discussing his mother.

Caniff returned home to arrange funeral services and burial for his 87-year-old mother, Elizabeth, who died Wednesday. The services will be held Saturday.

"This house was her haven," Caniff said of the suburban Oakwood home where he did much of his work on the Steve Canyon strip he draws for Field Enterprises, Inc., during regular summer and fall visits. Caniff lives in Palm Springs, Calif.

Mrs. Caniff married John W. Caniff in 1909 at Hillsboro, Ohio, where Milton was born. The family moved to Dayton in 1919.

Special services at Maple Grove

The Maple Grove United Methodist Church is conducting special services Sunday to conclude a week of revival activities.

The services will begin with Sunday School at 9:45 a.m., a basket dinner in the church annex at 12:30 p.m. and a song fest at 2 p.m.

The closing service will be held at 7:30 p.m. with the guest speaker, the Rev. Howard Mayne of Albany. The evening service has been designated Youth Night, with the church youth in charge of music.

The public is invited to attend the services, said the Rev. Earl J. Russell, pastor at the church.

Waverly speaker to head services

The Gregg Street Church of Christ in Christian Union will be holding revival services at 7:30 p.m. nightly Nov. 18-24.

According to the Rev. Robert Kline, pastor of the church, the guest speaker will be the Rev. Don Pfeiffer, an evangelist from Waverly.

Rev. Pfeiffer is a former district superintendent for the Churches of Christ in Christian Union and has spoken widely at revivals, conferences and camp meetings throughout the United States.

The public is invited to attend these services.

SCOL stars honored

By LARRY WATTS
Record-Herald Sports Editor

Thursday night's South Central Ohio League banquet at Washington Senior High School marked another banner year for Fayette County football. Not only did Miami Trace claim the co-championship trophy with Circleville, but the Panthers and Blue Lions combined to capture 14 of the 28 first team All-SCOL selections.

With Jay Mossbarger and Greg Cobb being selected both offensively and defensively, Miami Trace had seven players on the first team. Mossbarger, who was also the honorary captain of the offense, was named as a tight end and defensive end. Cobb, who is a junior, was selected to offensive tackle and linebacker.

Mossbarger and Cobb were the only returnees from last year's All-SCOL squad for the Panthers. Named for the first time were Tom Reisinger, center; Tom Riley, quarterback; Jeff Sagar, running back; Ron Warnock, defensive lineman; and Phil Skinner, defensive halfback.

Senior Jeff Brown was the only returnee from Washington Court House. Brown was chosen as the All-SCOL kicker both years.

Blue Lions being honored for the first time were Gilbert Sparkman, cornerback; Larry Dumford, linebacker; Brian Haines, defensive lineman; and Richard Halthcock, defensive lineman. Sparkman was also selected as the defensive team's honorary captain.

Co-champion Circleville held six first team selections on the all-star team. Tigers chosen to the squad were Scott Bowman, tackle; Tim McNaughton, guard; Rick Sampsill, wide receiver; Biff Bumgarner, running back; Alan Underwood, cornerback; and Perry Hoskins, defensive halfback. Bowman and Underwood were being honored for the second consecutive year.

Four players from Greenfield captured first team berths. Defensive end Gary Barr was selected for the second consecutive year. Chosen for the first time were Don Watts, wide receiver; Chuck Conley, defensive lineman; and Jim Ganger, linebacker.

From Wilmington, Jackie Watson was selected for his third time. Last year, Watson was honored as a defensive halfback and this year he was chosen as a running back. Guard Noel Van Pelt was also chosen from the Hurricane.

Hillsboro and Unioto each had one member on the team. The Indians were represented by defensive lineman Mark Ford and the Shermans placed offensive tackle Jeff Allen on the team.

Addressing the players and honored guests was Chuck Studley, who is the defensive line coach with the Cincinnati Bengals. Studley has been coaching at the high school, college and pro level for nearly 25 years.

"It is not the physical things which are important to being successful in any type of athletics," Studley told the athletes. "All types of athletics require intelligence because most of the mistakes made in athletic competition are those of an intellectual nature."

"From high school to the pros, an athlete always has to be in a proper state of mind," Studley continued. "There has to be that certain something beating in your heart and mind, saying that you have to get the job done within the rules of the game."

Studley noted that football players require a special type of courage. They have to put their head and shoulders at the legs of a runner and like it.

"Do not stop here and never give up," Studley stated. "For you athletes, this is the beginning, the end and the in between of interscholastic sports."

Also honored during the evening was the All-SCOL golf team. The Ohio High School Athletic Association moved golf from a spring sport to a fall sport effective this season.

Instead of one league match determining the winner of the golf title, the teams based their standings on dual matches. Circleville won the SCOL crown with a 11-1 record.

Jeff Spires, Mark McFadden and Jeff Bohenko were selected to the team from Circleville. Unioto placed Jamie Kysor and Mike Holtz on the squad. Also making the team were Mike Sharkey of Hillsboro, Fred Hamilton of Greenfield and Scott Kline of Wilmington.

Kysor and Spires each carried an average of 38 during the season. McFadden and Bohenko averaged 39 strokes per round. Sharkey, Holtz, Hamilton and Kline each had a 40 average.

Circleville was also the recipient of the first all sports trophy in the SCOL. The trophy was based upon the Tigers' performances in all sports during the 1973-74 season. The trophy was not presented during the spring banquet because the outcome of the baseball standings had not been decided.

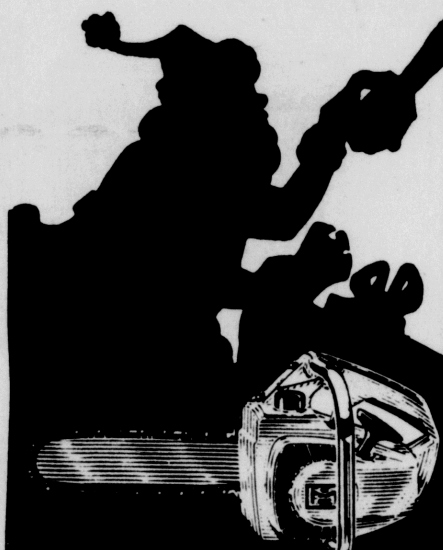

Entertainment for the evening was presented by members of the choir from Washington Senior High. The choir was under the direction of Charles Shaffer.

Bengals, Oilers in rematch

About three weeks ago, the Houston Oilers, sagging under the weight of a five-game losing streak, left home and staggered into Cincinnati. And just about everyone figured the string would run to six.

A few hours later it was the Bengals who were staggering. The Oilers pranced out of Riverfront Stadium with a 34-21 victory.

An upset, everyone said. A fluke.

So the Oilers followed that up by knocking off the New York Jets 27-22 and the Buffalo Bills 21-9. Now the streak is a positive one—three victories in a row, for the first time since 1971. It was the best road trip in the team's history. Those three victories were more than Houston had won the entire past two seasons combined.

And on Sunday, they face the Bengals again, this time in the suddenly friendly Astrodome. The team is predicting the largest crowd of the season, perhaps a sellout.

Sunday's other National Football League games, it's Pittsburgh at Cleveland, Los Angeles at New Orleans, San Diego at Oakland, Buffalo at Miami, St. Louis at Philadelphia, Dallas at Washington, Green Bay at Minnesota, the New York Giants at Detroit, the Jets at New England, San Francisco at Chicago and Baltimore at Atlanta. On Monday night, Denver hosts Kansas City.

Sid Gillman, the coach of the rejuvenated Oilers, doesn't buy that "upset" business anymore. "We feel we can play with anybody," he said. "We are making fewer and fewer mistakes and we said before the Buffalo game if we won, we wouldn't consider it an upset."

And Cincinnati Coach Paul Brown can't argue with that thinking. "We know we're going to be in an all-out battle. It should be obvious by now that they have a fine football team. They are very physical on defense and are led by a fine young quarterback in Dan Pastorini."

The Bengals have a pretty good one, too, in Ken Anderson, the NFL's No. 1 passer. He has completed 37 of his last 43 passes, including an NFL record 16 in a row. He picked Pittsburgh to pieces in last week's 17-10 victory that trimmed the Steelers' lead in the American Conference Central Division to one-half game over the Bengals.

What Anderson has done for Cincinnati, Pastorini has done for the Oilers. Given time to pass by his improved offensive line, Pastorini has thrown five touchdown strikes in the last four games and has moved up to fourth among American Conference passers.

Pittsburgh Coach Chuck Noll isn't saying who his starting quarterback will be against the Browns. Terry Bradshaw, who lost his job to Joe Gilliam in the exhibition season, has been back as the starter the past few games. And Terry Hanratty is still lurking on the sidelines.

"It's a decision that only I can make and that everybody else in the world gets to second-guess," Noll said. "It's a tough decision who to start, who to go with. We've got good people."

The Steelers haven't won in Cleveland since 1964.

The Rams need only a tie against New Orleans—whom they shut out 24-0 in the second game of the season—to clinch the National Conference West title. And Lawrence McCutcheon needs 141 yards to become the league's first 1,000-yard rusher this year.

The Raiders can also lock up a Western title—this one in the AFC—if they beat San Diego and Denver loses to Kansas City Monday night. Oakland has an eight-game winning streak going.

The Dolphins are still hurting at running back with Larry Csonka and Mercury Morris only questionable for their AFC East showdown with the Bills. Buffalo's O.J. Simpson, who left last week's game with a sprained ankle, is expected to start.

The Eagles, hosting St. Louis, were given a strong shot at challenging for the NFC East title but are struggling now, having lost four in a row. Their other loss was by a 7-3 score to the Cardinals in the teams' season opener.

The Redskins and Cowboys, who have spent the last three seasons slugging it out for first place in the division, are both trying to catch St. Louis this time around. Washington, one game off the pace and one up on Dallas, will again leave until game time the decision of whether Sonny Jurgensen or Billy Kilmer starts at quarterback.

Like the Raiders, Minnesota can win its division—the NFC Central—with some help. The Vikings have to shut down John Hadl and beat Green Bay and need a loss by Detroit, which has beaten the Giants in the teams' last four meetings.

The Patriots, one game back of Miami and Buffalo after leading the division for most of the year, are hoping to duplicate their Oct. 13 24-0 shutout over the Jets, who came alive against the Giants behind Joe Namath's brilliant passing last week.

Tackle slot opens for Washington's Cox

With an uncanny amount of injuries at the offensive tackle position of Ohio State, Washington Court House freshman Garth Cox may be seeing a lot of action on the Buckeyes' varsity squad this Saturday at Iowa.

In their 16-13 loss to Michigan State, the Buckeyes played without the services of Lorain senior Kurt Schumacher. Schumacher had his knee-cap banged out of place during last week's drills and he reported to Wednesday's practice for the first time since the injury. However, he has not really tested the knee in contact and it is uncertain whether he will be making the trip to Iowa City.

Junior Lou Pietrini filled in for Schumacher during the game with the Spartans. However, Pietrini has been sidelined with the flu this week and he may also miss the Iowa trip.

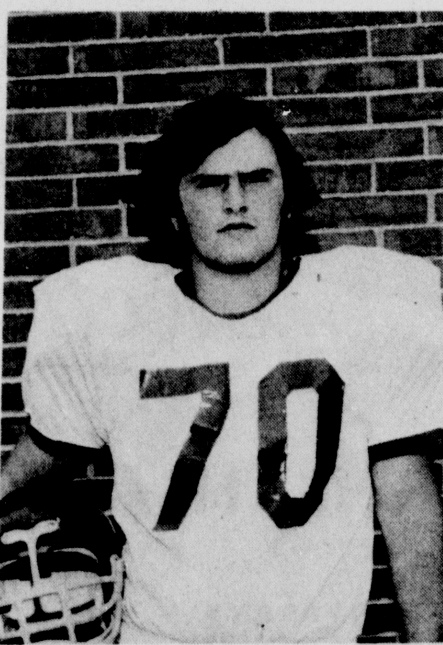

Chris Ward, a 6-foot 4, 270-pound freshman from Dayton has also been knocked out of action with a knee injury. Buckeye coaches are hoping he will be ready by the Michigan game.

With the injuries, sophomore Rick Applegate, who is 6-foot-3 and weighs 250 pounds, and Cox, who is 6-foot-5 and weighs 245 pounds, will be counted on to fill the gaps. Both players are lacking in experience.

Applegate started the season as a defensive tackle. He was then switched to offensive guard and now to offensive tackle.

Cox, who helped lead the Blue Lions to the Ohio Class AA state crown last year, has been seeing most of his action against the varsity defense this fall. Cox was a member of the South stars win the North-South Ohio All-Star game and a member of the Ohio stars in the Ohio-Pennsylvania All-Star game this past summer. During his senior campaign, Cox was selected as honorary captain of the All-SCOL offensive team, first team-all-district and honorable mention all-state.

Rough afternoon awaits Iowa

"We'll be playing a very disturbed and dangerous football team here Saturday."

That probable understatement was uttered this week by Iowa Coach Bob Commings as he prepared his respectable Hawkeyes for an invasion by erstwhile top-ranked Ohio State in the Big Ten's semifinal round of play.

Ohio State's invincibility was shredded by Michigan State 16-13 Saturday in a historic upset and now the pressure is on the Buckeyes girding for their big showdown with first-place Michigan next Saturday.

Nationally third-ranked Michigan, meanwhile, has a tough test against invading Purdue in a regionally televised game with the unbeaten

Wolverines trying to clinch a share of a fourth straight Big Ten title.

The rest of Saturday's conference card mainly stresses character building, although thirdplace Michigan State 4-1-1 still nurses feeble hopes of somehow elbowing into the title picture.

The Spartans, invading Indiana 1-5, must hope for Ohio State 5-1 to lose at Iowa and Michigan 6-0 to fall before both Purdue and Ohio State for any title chance and Rose Bowl bid.

Wisconsin 3-3 visits revived Northwestern 2-4 and Illinois 2-3-1 invades Minnesota 2-4 in the day's two other league battles.

If Ohio State's Buckeyes are half as riled as Coach Woody Hayes following the bizarre and costly setback at

Michigan State, Iowa is in for a painful afternoon.

"Ohio State's great rivalry with Michigan is irrelevant at this time," aptly appraised Hawkeye Coach Commings.

"The Buckeyes have to do a job on us this week for the Michigan game to mean anything.

"We've got to be prepared to meet a very angry football team. Offensively we'll try to mix things up and confuse them. Defensively, they create a great challenge because they have so many gifted backs."

Although Iowa stands 2-4 in the conference and 3-6 overall, the Hawkeyes fashioned a pretty fair upset of their own earlier in the season, tripping UCLA 21-10.

Michigan is tabbed a three-touchdown favorite over Purdue, but the Boilermakers 2-4 are the Big Ten's top passing team and rank second in total offense behind Ohio State with a 401.8-yard per game average. Michigan is third in total offense with a 381.3 average.

Aaron inks two year pact

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Hank Aaron has yet to hit a baseball for the Milwaukee Brewers, but the all-time home run king already has made a profound impact on his return to the city where he began his quest for stardom 21 years ago.

"I want to end my career here. My main challenge is to come back and bring a championship to this city that I love so dearly," Aaron said Thursday in his first appearance here since the Brewers obtained him in a trade with the Atlanta Braves Nov. 2.

Brewers' president Bud Selig announced that Aaron, who will be 41 Feb. 5, had signed a two-year contract as a player. Manager Del Crandall said Aaron will be used primarily as a designated hitter.

The news conference, described as the largest ever held here, was considered momentous enough to be televised locally live. The dozens of newsmen were joined by admiring dignitaries — including former Wisconsin Gov. Warren P. Knowles — and many cheered as Aaron entered the conference room at the downtown hotel.

Aaron, who hit 398 of his record 733 home runs for the old Milwaukee Braves from 1954 through 1965, said he was confident he could improve on his 1974 figures of a .268 batting average and 20 home runs.

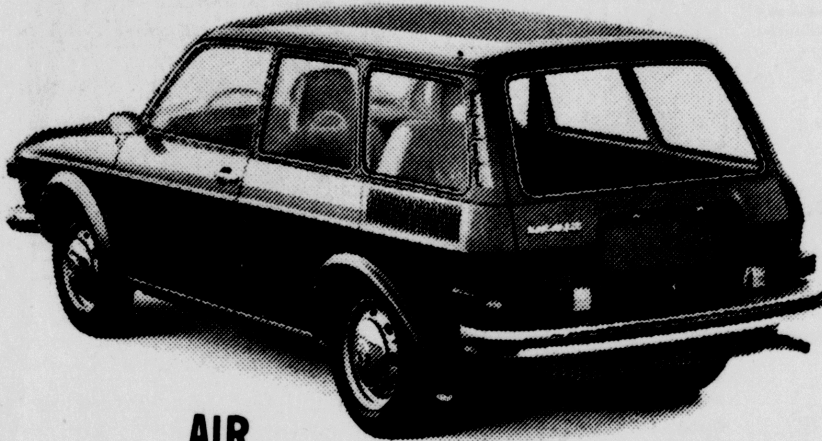

He said the pressure of trying to surpass Babe Ruth's previous record of 714 career homers was past, and that not having to play in the field every day should help his stamina.

Booster drive

The Washington C. H. Blue Lion basketball boosters club will be holding its annual membership drive starting at 3 p.m. Saturday, according to club president Ben Jamison.

Jamison said the varsity and reserve basketball players will be canvassing the city's residential areas while the cheerleaders will be selling membership tickets in the downtown business district. . . . The tickets are priced at $2 per person.

They'll Do It Every Time

Speaking of Your Health...

Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

The Care and Cure of Ulcers

When one speaks of an ulcer, the stomach ulcer usually comes to mind.

Actually, an ulcer is a sore, or crater, which can be found in the mouth, the esophagus, the intestines, the cornea of the eye, or on the skin.

Ulcers of the skin on the toes, the feet and the legs require concentrated care. They tend to become infected easily. In people with poor circulation, the ulcers invade the soft tissues, muscles, and even the bone.

Arteriosclerosis, diabetes, phlebitis, varicose veins, injuries, burns and frostbite can be responsible for ulcers which fail to heal.

Unless they are carefully treated there is great danger of complications.

Far too many legs have been amputated because people treated "tiny ulcers" for months before seeking the advice and guidance of a doctor.

Over-the-counter salves and antiseptic solutions recommended by enthusiastic friends may be harsh and impair the delicate healing mechanism of the ulcer.

A prime rule is that anyone with a persistent break in the skin must be treated by a physician. The elderly, especially, because their circulation is diminished, must not neglect this condition.

A child in my daughter's school was thought to have diphtheria. We were petrified, even though it was a false alarm. Isn't diphtheria a wiped-out disease?

Mrs. C.L.L., Tex.

Dear Mrs. L.:

Diphtheria would be a completely "wiped-out disease" if there were not carelessness in immunization.

Immunization with a diphtheria toxoid can prevent the disease.

However, more than 3,000 cases of diphtheria were reported in the United States between 1959 and 1970.

The Center for Disease Control in Atlanta, Ga., found that there were 253 deaths from diphtheria during this period. This is shocking evidence of carelessness in maintaining proper immunization.

These deaths were preventable. It is important that parents check the status of immunization in the family.

Polio, measles, rubella, tetanus, and whooping cough need not threaten the lives of our children.

DR. LESTER COLEMAN has prepared a special booklet entitled "What to Do About Ulcers." For your copy, send 25 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Lester L. Coleman, M.D., (Ulcer Booklet), P.O. Box 5178, Grand Central Station, New York City 10017. Please mention the booklet by title.

Bidding Quiz

Partner opens the bidding with One Diamond, you respond One Spade, and partner rebids One Notrump. What would you bid now with each of the following four hands?

1. ♠AKJ63 ♥84 ♦J5 ♣AJ72
2. ♠KQ85 ♥64 ♦943 ♣KQ72
3. ♠AQ9742 ♥9 ♦AJ65 ♣83
4. ♠AJ87 ♥J9 ♦J82 ♣KQ95

1. Three clubs. First, let's consider the meaning of partner's two bids. It is clear that he has a hand of the minimum class (12 to 15 points) with balanced distribution, probably 4-3-3-3, 4-4-3-2 or 5-3-3-2.

A game must obviously be reached, since you have an opening bid facing an opening bid, but it is not yet clear what the best contract is apt to be. If over three clubs partner bids three spades, you bid four; if he bids three notrump, you pass; if he bids four clubs, you bid five.

2. Pass. There is almost no chance for game, as partner has at most 15 points. There is also very little hope for improving the part score situation by bidding two clubs. Partner will probably make seven or eight tricks in notrump on high-card values alone, so the safest course of action is a pass.

3. Three diamonds. You can't play for less than game opposite an opening diamond bid, so you make a forcing bid to elicit more information.

If partner bids three spades, you bid four; if he bids three notrump you retreat to four spades, thus showing a six-card suit; if he bids four diamonds over three, you also bid four spades.

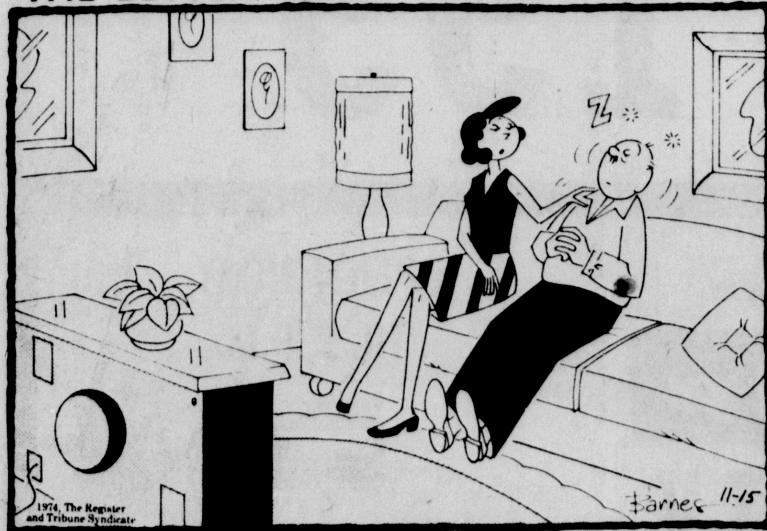

There is almost no chance for a slam after partner's signoff bid, and it is best to disregard those few magic hands he might have that would produce twelve tricks.

4. Three notrump. This is a slight stretch but three notrump comes closer to representing your true values than two notrump, which is the alternative bid. It is generally right to assume that partner shows 14 points by his opening bid and his notrump signoff, and your well-distributed 12 points ought to do the job.

A good case could be made for bidding only two notrump if your sprinkling of eights and nines were deuces and treys. There is a probability that one or two of these intermediate cards will prove helpful in producing nine tricks. Intermediate cards are seldom evaluated in point-count literature, but these lesser soldiers often pull a lot of weight.
